Ford's Request Meeting Stiff Resistance

President Seeks $522 Million For South Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's request for $522 million in military aid to South Vietnam and Cambodia is meeting stiff resistance in Congress. The administration may have to renege on its commitment to provide Saigon with replacement military equipment.

Sen. John Tower of Texas, a ranking Republican, told newsmen: "I think the prospect of the money being appropriated by Congress is pretty dim. I think the money should be appropriated, but I don't think the majority of Congress will take that position."

"It means that we are not really honoring our commitment in South Vietnam to replace weaponry on a one-to-one basis. There is a growing isolationism in this country—I think we have to face up to that fact."

Ford formally sent the aid request to Congress Tuesday. According to Sen. Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., Secretary of State Henry Kissinger told congressional leaders at the White House Tuesday that without the $300 million portion which would go to South Vietnam that country "eventually may go down the drain."

Kissinger, defending the aid, said Congress last year authorized $1 billion in military aid for Saigon, but appropriated only $700 million.

The Paris accords which ended U.S. direct military involvement in Indochina on Jan. 28, 1973, provided that the United States could replace worn-out military equipment on a piece-by-piece basis.

Since June 1974 the military situation in South Vietnam has deteriorated through lack of ammunition and weapons. Fighting in Cambodia never stopped because no cease-fire was ever concluded in that country.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the senate subcommittee on refugees, has charged that the administration has not been doing enough to press a diplomatic solution in Indochina.

"Regrettably, the priority of American policy toward Indochina remains with the means of war rather than the tools for building peace," he said in releasing a study on refugees in 'South Vietnam and Cambodia two years after the Paris accords. Refugees, a barometer of the level of conflict, have increased alarmingly.

Meanwhile on the war front Despite heavy Cambodian air attacks Communist gunners sank one fuel tanker and set fire to another today in an attempt to stop a convoy sailing up the Mekong River, military sources said.

The sources said at least one Cambodian navy escort vessel was believed to have been sunk in the attack. A third tanker along with two barges loaded with ammunition survived the ambush and continued up the muddy river, the sources said.

The convoy, the third to try the run since rebels intensified their hold on the Mekong on New Year's eve, was expected to reach Phnom Penh Thursday morning (late Wednesday, New York time).

The sources said the convoy left the South Vietnamese port of Tan Chau earlier in the day for the 71-mile trip up the river. A fourth tanker failed to sail because the crew refused to take the risks of running the Communist gauntlet.

The convoy was attacked 10 miles deep into Cambodia and the tanker Xuong was set afire and sunk. The second tanker, identified as the Bou Hung, also caught fire but made it six miles farther before it ran aground on the tip of Peam Reang Island.

FULL DEALER CAR LOT MAY SOON BE EMPTIED

Area Car Dealers Enthusiastic

By WADE BURKHART

KINGSTON

During bad economic times what economists and pundits like to call "big ticket items" are the first to languish in sales. The automobile is just about the biggest ticket item in the American economic system, sales have been bad, and the industry has come up with a program that according to both national and local indications is working.

The program is the rebate system, with all four major car manufacturers sending buyers of selected models cash back in varying amounts. A survey of area car dealers found them almost uniformly enthusiastic about the program.

Ron Schorg, a salesman at Bernal American was asked what kind of effect rebates have had on the sales of his company's American Motors cars. "Fantastic," he said. "Saturday," he said, "I didn't even get a chance to drink my tea."

Charles Schaffner, general manager of Jerry Martin Pontiac, said, "Floor traffic in our showroom has really picked up. It looks like things are turning around."

As a reporter left the Jerry Martin showroom, a woman walked in. She asked about rebates.

"We've had action," said Jack Musillo, service manager at Grimaldi Buick-Opel. "It's been a tremendous boost to us."

The rebate system is stimulating a lot of activity, but most agencies reported the buyers were still cautious and rather than being stymied into buying the first rebate-eligible car they could lay their hands on were shopping carefully.

Ron Prince, of Ron Prince Chevrolet in Red Hook, said people walking into his showroom wanted the rebate "and a little more too, which we generally try to give them."

He said his agency had been selling a lot of rebated cars. Jack Totten, general manager at Michael Chevrolet, remarked that while his sales were up because of the rebates they were not up in proportion to the tremendous number of potential buyers they were seeing, a phenomena noted by many of the agencies surveyed.

Eugene Girona, president of Kingston Chrysler-

Plymouth, said pretty much the same thing, but he, like Totten, was enthusiastic about the rebate program. He said it had been a tremendous "morale boost" for his salesmen, and that while it was hard getting a deposit on new cars his used cars were moving well. Girona said it looked like he was going to have a "decent January," traditionally a rotten month for car sales.

'It Looks Like Things Are Turning'

Dodge has been holding a heavily advertised rebate program, complete with toothy Joe Garagilao in a straw boater, and it seems to be paying off. Mike DeMicco, at DeMicco Motors, said Dodge Sales were up nationally, and he himself was "working from 9 to 9, and I never work from 9 to 9 unless there's business."

At Johnson Ford, Sales Manager James Sawyer said the rebates were enough to convince people who first looked at a car "two or three months ago" that it was time to buy, with several buyers at his agency reporting that the rebates had prompted their purchases.

Rebates have helped the dealers offering the, but they don't seem to have hurt the business of other dealers. Sidney Musiker, of Musiker Toyota, and Donald Amerling, of Amerling Volkswagen, both said their sales were doing very well, in large part because of the gas mileage their models offered. Gas mileage is an important selling point, they agreed, with all the talk about shortages and increases in gas prices.

Luxury car sales have been doing well, both nationally and locally. Leonard Beck, owner of GEM Cadillac-Oldsmobile, said his big cars were selling well.

Roger Anderson, of Anderson Chevrolet in Accord, was one of the few to say the rebates had had little effect on his business. "I guess we're out in the country more here, and people are more conservative," he said. "I'll say one thing though," said Anderson, "people are repairing their cars more than ever before. They'll repair them until they just don't want to go anymore."

People are shopping carefully at Tom Gewant Ford and Mercury in Kerhonkson, Gewant said. He said many of the large number of buyers stimulated by the rebates found the leftover 1974 models he still had in stock a better buy than a 1975 rebated car, and bought the 1974s instead.

Rebates have had a "very positive effect" on business at Louis Smith Chevrolet in Highland, General Manager Robert Russo said, but he didn't think the manufacturers could continue the rebate program because they were losing money. He favored taking such high priced items as radial tires (worth $200) off new cars and making them optional.

When the rebate program ends — Feb. 28 for most manufacturers and sooner for Chrysler — the dealers agreed they hoped something equally good replaced it.

A House Cleaning in Ellenville

ELLENVILLE

In a long and emotion-filled meeting Tuesday night, three administrators in the Ellenville Central School District learned officially that their days in Ellenville are numbered. A fourth school official was spared in the administrative house cleaning.

Acting on the recommendation of Superintendent James D. Evergetis, the board unanimously accepted the resignation of Dr. Cary Wood, high school principal effective June 30. By a 6-3 vote, the board notified elementary school principal Milton Lachterman and his assistant, Mrs. Mildred Carson, that they would not be recommended for reappointment when their contracts expire June 30. Lachterman holds tenure as an assistant principal and can return to that position if he desires.

The fourth administrator, Joseph Savarese, assistant high school principal, was rehired by a 6-3 vote for three years, the minimum permitted by the State Education Department, which limits non-tenured administrator contracts to not less than three or more than five years.

The board had to move its meeting from the elementary school library to accommodate the crowd, which filled the 600-seat high school auditorium and stood in rows across the back. The special meeting was necessary before Jan. 31 to meet contractual requirements that non-tenured administrators be notified of the board's intentions at least six months before contracts expire.

Evergetis read a lengthy statement explaining his reasons for his recommendations. Although he did not mention any administrator by name, he criticized conditions he found when he took over his $32,000 superintendent's post seven months ago.

On his first visit to the school in June he found little instruction being given, numerous students outside smoking, "the cafeteria floor was a sight and the bathrooms were not fit to use."

Another tour in September found the auditorium loft filled with "paper and dozens of beer cans," enough to fill a dump truck, he said. Administrator failure to supervise an all-day assembly just two weeks ago cost the district more than $300 in repairs to seats cut up by students, he said.

Evergetis said the drama club had incurred more than $1,200 in unpaid bills last year and that this past fall three teachers were assigned to two study halls most of the day although no more than 15 students seldom showed up.

"Is this why the (Ellenville Teachers' Association) wants to keep the administrators?" he asked.

Evergetis criticized ETA for making no effort to "learn why I made my decisions or what decisions I had made. It would appear that ETA was not concerned about the reputations of administrators or the well being of the student body, but rather to hastily cast doubts about the judgment of the superintendent."

Evergetis also criticized the quality of instruction, saying Ellenville pupils, despite a "normal" IQ average, placed at the bottom quarter of all schools in statewide pupil achievement tests.

Evergetis was applauded when he finished, but board member Morris Posner said the superintendent's criticism of ETA "convinces me of the value of tenure." Continuing his criticism, he started to discuss the selection of a teacher from two candidates for an open position. "One teacher was the daughter of a board member," he said, before being cut off by shouts from the crowd and by school board attorney Benjamin Lonstein, who said: "You are doing a disservice to this community."

Board member Adrian Milton said: "I believe the superintendent can make changes without dismissing all of them (administrators) and this is being done."

Board member Jack Siegel supported Evergetis, saying: "He has saved us his three years' salary since Sept. 1."

A long list of speakers stepped to the microphone, including Irwin Arginsky, who received perhaps the loudest hand of the night when he said: "The problem does not lie with our superintendent, administration, or faculty. The problem is with our board. I call on them to resign."

William Lenard, ETA president, called Evergetis's criticism of the teacher group "a personal attack on me." He also disputed the superintendent's pupil achievement results, saying Ellenville pupils had done as well as statewide norms in two of three categories tested.

Board member Florence Kirby, a former Ellenville teacher, defended the quality of the faculty, as did John Quinn, a teacher, who said most teachers were competent. Quinn said he felt he could do as good a job as anyone brought in from outside. Evergetis said there were many good teachers in the school, that Quinn was one of the "superior" teachers, and that he should have not taken the remarks personally.

Several high school students spoke, all defending the faculty.

Youth and His Arsenal Hold off Authorities

By MATT SPIRENG

KRUMVILLE

Armed with a small arsenal of weapons, a 16-year-old Krumville youth held police at bay for several hours early today after apparently going berserk and ransacking his home. The youth allegedly fired several times at officers, and hit a Town of Olive patrol car at least four times.

After attempts to reason with the youth proved fruitless, tear gas was fired into the home and police rushed in, finally subduing him in the attic, to which he had been driven by the harsh fumes.

During the early stages of the incident the youth's mother, identified as Mrs. Minerva Degondea, 52, was held hostage by her son. She suffered a hand laceration during her struggles with the youth, who reportedly had a history of medical treatment for drug-related problems.

The incident began innocently enough shortly after 2 a.m. when Olive constables were called to the Sahler Mill Road residence concerning a family dispute. Constables Carl Swenson and Roland Jacobson were the first to arrive, and two more constables, William Kassor and Burt Leifeld, were quickly summoned.

The youth reportedly refused to release his mother, and state police were called in. Before state police arrived, however, the youth freed the woman, and she was taken to Kingston Hospital, where she was treated for her injury and later released. A large detail of state police from Kingston, Leeds and Ellenville under the direction of Capt. P. Gromacki, Lt. S. Kowalik and Senior BCI Investigator Michael Lisman surrounded the home and attempted to talk the youth into giving himself up.

At first the youth brandished a double barrel 12-gauge shotgun, and then armed himself with a .22 caliber magnum rifle. Talks went on for about an hour, with police calling out to the youth from the road in front of the home, when suddenly the youth opened fire, sending bullets smashing into the Olive patrol car, shattering the windshield.

Tear gas was fired into the home through windows already smashed by the youth during his rampage, and police rushed in. He was found in the attic where he had gone after dropping his gun, police said.

Five guns were found in the home, including three rifles and two shotguns. Ammunition for the weapons was lined up on a bed, authorities said. A quantity of pills, marijuana and syringes were also found.

Arraigned before Hurley Town Justice C.H. DuMond on attempted murder charges, the youth, who was not identified, was sent to the Ulster County Jail where an immediate psychiatric examination was scheduled.

Gov. Carey Calls for Increase In State Unemployment Benefits

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — With the jobless rate in the state soaring, Gov. Hugh L. Carey has joined the growing list of public officials calling for an increase in unemployment benefits.

Carey told the Maritime Port Council Tuesday that he favored a federally funded public works program akin to those of the Great Depression of the 1930s.

That remark to the group of unions representing port and dock workers in the state was in his prepared text, but Carey added that he also would fight to hike benefits for the jobless.

There has been growing pressure for a boost in the maximum from the present $95 a week. Carey was not specific in his proposals, but reports have centered on the possibility of boosting benefits to $125 a week depending on the ability of the unemployment insurance fund, paid for by employers, to carry the increase.

"What is needed now," Carey said, "is a program of public works and economic development like Franklin D. Roosevelt promoted in the 30s, Harry Truman in the 40s and John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson in the 60s."

The governor said he would fight for "a new share of public works development from the federal government for everything from dredging to upland development for cargo movement. We want our share of public works."

Carey also pledged to upgrade the State Commerce Department and the Job Development Authority (JDA). He told an impromptu news conference after the luncheon speech that he was not satisfied with the job being done by the JDA and said more should be done to promote industrial and profit-producing jobs in the state.

He claimed that 270,000 manufacturing jobs had left the state in the past five years and that despite superior sites, transportation and a labor pool "we have given a lackluster account of ourselves in the competition for corporate headquarters and manufacturing firms."

In relation to the public works projects, Carey told the news conference that he thought local officials, such as mayors and county executives, should have a maximum voice in deciding what projects were required.

Speaking on the same day that the State Labor Department's latest figures showed unemployment in the state had risen to 7.6 per cent, Carey devoted most of his talk to the economy.

He pledged that he would use the $250 million rail bond approved last November "to make our railroads lifelines of employment again. My administration is determined to bolster the port of New York's capacity with a superior rail network."

The governor also said he would seek improvements in canals and other transit facilities "to lift the economies of Buffalo, Oswego, Ogdensburg, Albany and New York."

Hurley Town Board Signs Library Contract

A contract with the West Hurley Library was signed by Supervisor Raymond Crosswell, and the town board learned that only freezing weather was needed to get the new skating rink in operation, at Monday night's meeting of the Hurley Town Board.

The contract with the West Hurley Library grants the library $7,500 from the town's revenue sharing funds to go toward construction of a new library.

Robert Barrett, president of the library, personally appeared before the board to thank the board members for the money, and presented a lengthy petition of thanks from local residents.

After a meeting involving Councilman Walter Rose, the recreation commission, the West Hurley Fire Company, and Deputy Supervisor George Schroeder to review the skating rink problem, Rose reported that the skating rink was being filled as the board was meeting Monday night by the fire company.

The town prepared the site near the West Hurley Fire House, and firemen erected the rink. Schroeder was thanked by the board for his role in getting the rink in operation.

In other action, the board: • Received a request from the zoning board of appeals for an amendment to present town zoning, covering vacation camp grounds.

• Appointed Floyd Robbins to replace Dr. Martin Kantor on the zoning board of appeals. Kantor's term had expired.

• Received notice from the State Public Service Commission (PSC) that further hearings on the rate increase request of the Hurley Water Co. would be held in Pleasant Valley, and directed the town clerk to write to the PSC asking that the hearings be held locally.

• Noted that William Schiff had been appointed chairman of the planning board for 1975.

• Received the annual report of the constabulary from Chief Constable Philip Sinagra, which showed 944 total entries for 1974.

• Received the annual social services report from Rose, the social service officer, showing that the services had cost the town $2,804.64 in 1974.

• Noted a meeting set for Feb. 10 between the town board, the planning and zoning appeals boards, and Ulster County Planning Director Herbert Hekler to discuss possible changes in zoning ordinances.

• Noted that the application for the Van Dale Ridge subdivision by Neumann and Antilla had been withdrawn from the planning board, and directed the town attorney to examine the developer's request for a return of $450 in fees paid the town.

• Voted to advertise for sale a used town dump truck, with the bids to be open at the Feb. 24 board meeting.

• After an executive session prior to the meeting decided to resolicit applications for dog warden, seeking someone who could respond immediately to town dog problems.

• After a Jan 16 inspection by the town board and the recreation commission of a possible recreation site on

Dug Hill Goad, the Harrison property, decided to ask the county soil and water conservation district to inspect the site with a report to follow.

VICTORIA AND HER DAD

UPI

Shadow of Kremlin May Be Last Chapter

By UPI

Once upon a time a dashing American naval officer and a beautiful Russian actress met at a party in wartime Moscow. The two fell madly in love.

It was a storybook tale of true love until a hostile Kremlin stepped in. The officer was expelled, the actress sent to a prison camp in Siberia.

But not before the two lovers, blind to the shadow about to darken their romance, conceived a child. Thirty years later, their daughter is the center of a new controversy.

Victoria Fyodorova, a 29-year-old Russian actress, wants to travel to the United States to meet her aging father, Jackson Tate, a retired rear admiral. But the Kremlin has refused to let her leave the Soviet Union.

Tate was expelled from Russia in 1944 after a whirlwind love affair with Victoria's mother, Zoya Fyodorova, one of the country's most famous screen stars at the time.

It was a Moscow spring, Tate says, when he first met Zoya at a diplomatic reception. He was a handsome young naval officer. She was at the height of her acting career. And the war was almost over.

Tate never knew of his daughter's existence until a friend visited the Soviet Union a few years ago. Tate then called Zoya in Moscow and wrote her:

"I loved you then and I still love you, and cherish the memories."

Zoya, who was freed from prison after eight years, says she'd like to visit the United States but she hasn't applied for a visa. "I'm just an old love," she said. "It's Victoria he wants to see."

Victoria says she can't understand why authorities won't give her a visa.

Nixon Eager for Return to Politics

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Richard Nixon's doctors say his health is improving and at least one friend — Sen. Barry Goldwater — says the former president wants to get back into political life.

Dr. John Lungren said Nixon on "still tires and fatigues very easily, but for the first time since he left the hospital last November, he has shown a definite improvement in his physical appearance."

The physician said Nixon 62, might be well enough "to leave the compound next month to take occasional trips by car or helicopter."

Nixon did not testify at the Watergate cover-up trial of his former top aides because Lungren certified, and a court appointed panel of doctors concurred, that Nixon was too sick to travel, even to give a deposition locally.

Lungren said he could not say when Nixon would be well enough for lengthy travel, such as to Washington, where there has been talk of subpoenaing the him to testify before congressional committees investigating domestic spying.

The report by Lungren coincided with a statement in Washington by Goldwater, the Arizona Republican who is a leader of the party's conservative wing, that he had lunch with Nixon last Thursday at San Clemente, Calif.

Goldwater said they "talked of his (Nixon's) desire to get back into the political arena — not as a candidate but as a party spokesman."

"We discussed whether he would be welcomed back into the party's affairs and I told him I thought he would be," Goldwater said.

Goldwater said any such return would not be soon, and depends on Nixon's health.

Lungren said he carried out a routine examination of Nixon at the San Clemente estate shortly before Nixon received a visit from Secretary of State Henry Kissinger Friday. "It was not connected with Mr. Kissinger's visit, although it gave me the opportunity to see how Nixon reacted to the situation," Lungren said.

Pledges No Vendetta on CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has pledged that the Senate's probe of Central Intelligence Agency and FBI spying will "get the facts" but will not be a vendetta.

Talking to reporters after his official election as chairman of the new 11-member select committee Tuesday, the liberal Church said it was too early to determine whether former President Nixon would be called before the panel.

Early testimony in other CIA probes has indicated the agency violated its charter and spied on Americans because of intense pressure from Nixon and the late President Lyndon Johnson.

The panel will investigate charges the CIA spied on Americans at home, that the FBI kept files on members of Congress and any other allegations of improper spying by government intelligence agencies.

"We are going to look into all aspects of the alleged misdeeds of the CIA and FBI," Church said. "We're not going to conduct a vendetta, but we are going to get the facts."

The Washington Post reported today that former CIA Director Richard Helms told a congressional committee in May of 1973 that the agency did not spy on reporters, although current director William E. Colby recently acknowledged the agency did place three Washington newsmen, and two other persons, under surveillance in 1971 and 1972.

The Senate inquiry, funded with $750,000, will work much like the Senate Watergate committee investigation. But the Church committee likely will hold few public hearings.

An Encouraging Word on Oil

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A respected economist gave Congress encouraging news about oil today, saying the world's petroleum supplies are rising sharply and prices eventually are bound to fall.

Hendrik Houthakker, a Harvard professor who served on the Council of Economic Advisers, said the four-fold increase in world oil prices during 1973 and 1974 led to a burst of successful exploration for new supplies which may one day result in a new oil glut.

"Inventories are being rebuilt" as a result, Houthakker told Congress' Joint Economic Committee, "and this will in due course put pressure on the price.

"In the long run, further relief will come from new exploration, which is now proceeding at a feverish pace and has already led to considerable success, contrary to the popular notion that we are close to the limits of the world's energy supply."

State Police Report

HURLEY
A total of $13,714 worth of stolen property was recovered by state police in Ulster and Greene Counties in the month of December during the course of investigation of 1,181 criminal cases, according to the monthly report of area state police activities released by Lt. Stanley M. Kowalik, zone commander.

The investigation of the criminal cases resulted in 66 felony arrests — 53 in Ulster

County — and 238 misdemeanor arrests — 188 in Ulster County.

Among the stolen property recovered were four automobiles.

During the month 1,062 traffic tickets were issued by state police in the two-county area, with 152 speeding arrests included among the tickets. State police investigated 324 auto accidents, 229 of which were in Ulster County, and issued tickets in 118 of the mishaps. Four fatal accidents, involving the deaths of four people, were investigated by state police in Ulster County during the month.

In addition, 44 drivers were cited for driving while intoxicated, with 22 of the arrests resulting from accidents. Of the total 29 driving while intoxicated arrests were made in Ulster County.

Uniform troopers patrolled a total of 84,680 miles during the month.

Postal Service Examinations

KINGSTON
The U.S. Postal Service has announced an examination for mail handler positions at the Kingston Post Office, to establish a register of eligibles from which future mail handler vacancies will be filled.

No experience is required. The job pays $10,054 in starting salary, with increases to $12,452 per year. Part-time flexible schedule employees start at $4.99 per hour, with increases to $6.18.

The closing date for applications is Feb. 1. The date for the examination will be set subsequent to the closing of applications.

All applicants will be required to take a written examination designed to test address checking, following oral directions and understanding the meaning of words. The test and completion of the forms will require about two hours. Competitors will be rated on a scale of 100 and must score at least 70 on the examination as a whole.

Amputees should not apply for the job. Eligibles within reach of appointment will be given a test for strength and stamina.

The general age requirement is 18, or 16 if a high school graduate. In general there is no maximum age limit. Applicants will be notified of the date, time and place of the examination and will be sent sample questions.

Contribution Is Presented

ROSENDALE
A contribution of $363.10 was presented to the Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services, Rosendale Parent-Teacher Club recently by Joseph T. Sobon.

Sobon, an employee of IBM, Fishkill, applied for and was granted the funds through the firm's Fund for Community Services Program. The program makes available supplementary financial support to local, non-profit community organizations in which employees have shown a sustained, dedicated and continued involvement.

Sobon is president of the Rosendale Parent-Teacher Club and is a former member of the board of directors of the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children.

The donation will supplement the cost of purchasing a Tele-Trainer set for use at the Rosendale school for trainable mentally retarded children. The set will stimulate actual telephone situations and help the students learn to use a telephone correctly and effectively.

Program Instituted

KINGSTON
A new program in intravenous therapy has been instituted at Benedictine Hospital as a means of lessening the need for calling nurses from critical areas of the hospital to perform such duties.

Director of Nursing Service Sister Gabrielle, announced recently that Eileen Reis, RN, intravenous therapist, assisted by Maria Kain RN, have inaugurated the program on all medical-surgical floors, taking over the administering and maintenance of all intravenous therapy.

Special training is needed for such therapy, under the direction of an anesthesiologist. Intravenous feeding directs fluids directly into the vein.

"Skill is needed in locating the vein," Miss Reis explained, adding that current knowledge and availability is essential to maintain an effective program.

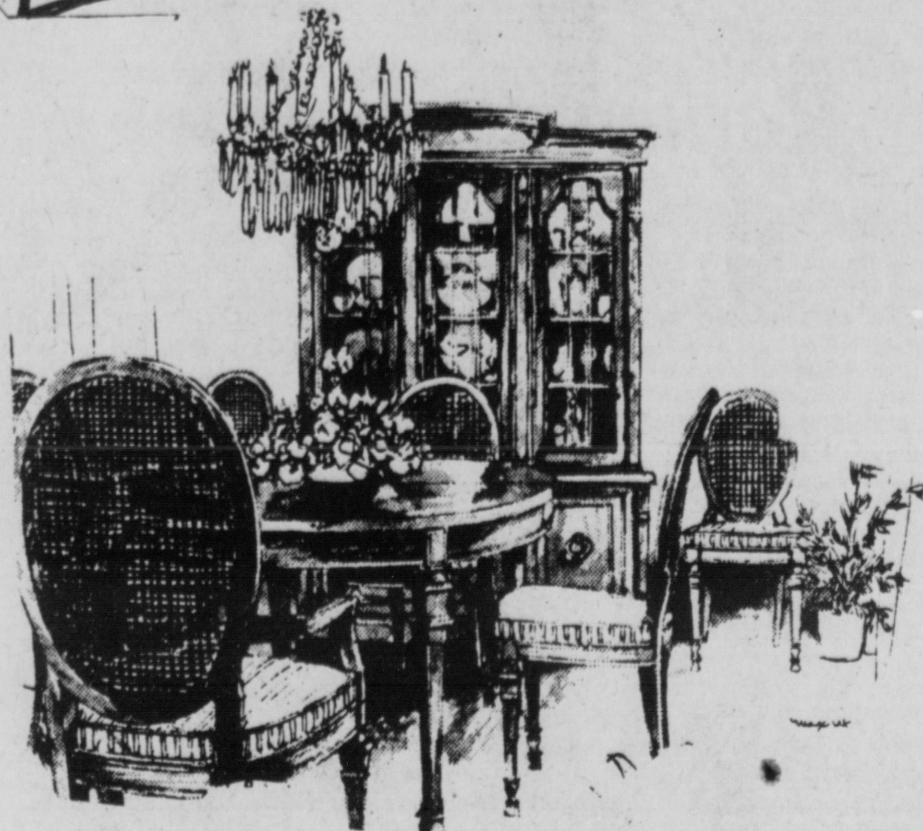

Under plans for the long-range development of the program, the team would work in conjunction with the hospital's pharmacy to develop "an admixture program" in which medication mixtures would be provided by the pharmacy and supplied to all floors of the hospital.

Inspection Notices Out

ALBANY
The New York State Health Department will no longer routinely give advance notice of inspections to nursing homes and other long-term-care health facilities, Dr. Robert P. Whalen, acting state health commissioner, announced this week.

He also announced a streamlined procedure for inspections, which includes:

- On-the-spot correction of deficiencies which can be corrected, with the inspector staying on the premises until it is done.
- Prompt assessment of fines, especially for patient neglect.
- Wider disclosure of inspection findings.

"Facilities that now provide good care and advocate an 'open door' policy with the public and with government, I'm sure, will welcome our new 'no advance notice' policy," Whalen said. "Those that have something to hide or that do not have a consistently good 'track record' will find it extremely difficult to evade standards and New York State's surveillance activities."

Whalen said the only exception to the no-notice policy will be cases where specific employees must be available to assure successful outcome of the survey. Even then, he said, advance notice would be "as limited as is feasible."

IRS Office Has Additional Hours

ALBANY
The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) announced today that its offices in eight communities including Kingston, in Northeastern New York will be open extra hours to provide additional help to taxpayers preparing their Federal Income Tax Returns.

Theodore Bouthillier, IRS acting district director for Northeastern New York, said, "Taxpayers who have questions too complicated to handle by phone, and who can't come into an IRS office during the regular work-day hours, might receive help during these extended hours."

The extra hours will be from 4:45 p.m. to 6:45 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays through Feb. 25, and from March 24 through April 15. The offices offering this extended service in addition to Kingston, are the regular IRS offices in Albany, Glens Falls, Newburgh, Plattsburgh, Poughkeepsie, and Schenectady. The Gloversville office will offer these extended hours, but only on Mondays listed. On April 14 and 15, all eight offices will offer four extra hours, from 4:45 p.m. to 8:45 p.m.

Taxpayers who want telephone assistance will also have these extra hours of assistance available to them on the Mondays and Tuesdays listed above.

Bouthillier asked taxpayers who come to IRS offices for help with their returns to list all income and deductions on a separate sheet of paper, which makes it easier for the Taxpayer Service Representatives to provide the necessary assistance.

Vett Declares Candidacy

NEW PALTZ
John G. Vett, a member of the village planning board and former Democratic candidate for councilman in the Town of New Paltz, has declared his candidacy for mayor of the Village of New Paltz.

The incumbent, Henry W. DuBois, a longtime member of village government, has indicated that he will not be seeking reelection.

Although his last campaign was as a Democrat, Vett said recently that he was running as a member of the Independent Party for mayor. Although traditionally non-partisan, the last village election had considerable involvement by both the Republican and Democratic parties.

Vett said he had asked for, and received, support from both Republicans and Democrats.

Nominating petitions are due Feb. 25.

He resides at 42 Center Street in the village. So far, he is the only declared candidate.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 29, 1975

By JACK ANDERSON
with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — Famed criminal lawyer Percy Foreman, who has saved so many clients from jail or worse, is now himself the target of a federal grand jury investigation.

A grand jury in Dallas is looking into charges that he received $100,000 to obstruct justice in the Texas Watergate case. According to evidence in the case, he was supposed to "control" potential witnesses against the billionaire brothers, Bunker and Herbert Hunt.

In previous columns, we have reported how a feud over the fabulous fortune of the eccentric Texas oil tycoon, H. L. Hunt, led to a botched wiretap job back in 1970. To avoid implication in the scandal, the old man's sons, Bunker and Herbert, frantically began evasive maneuvers.

They turned to Percy Foreman, whose celebrated clients range from James Earl Ray, the assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King, to a host of social butterflies.

Bunker Hunt wanted Foreman to represent the wiretappers who were potentially the most dangerous witnesses against the Hunts, according to the evidence before the grand jury.

As an intermediary, Bunker used a wealthy friend and businessman, Ed Hudson, who kept detailed notes on his talks with both Hunt and Foreman. But one of the wire-tappers, Jon Kelly, who had been hired by Hudson, made off with the notes.

These have now been turned over to the grand jury, and we have obtained copies. They reveal that "Bunker Hunt called (Hudson) from London" early in January, 1972, and confirmed that Hudson was to "go ahead with Foreman on $50,000 fee."

Describing his talks with the celebrated lawyer, Hudson wrote that "Foreman will direct all strategy and guarantee Kelly will not testify before grand jury." So sure was Foreman of success, wrote Hudson, that the lawyer "will return fee" if Kelly had to testify.

Foreman was retained to represent not only Kelly but two more of the wiretappers, W. J. $75,000 retainer, but Foreman agreed to take on the other two clients for $50,000, according to the notes.

The purpose for giving Foreman the $100,000 is stated with stark candor by Hudson. It was to "control" the potential witnesses against the Hunts and "to avoid indictment of Bunker and Herbert."

As recounted in Hudson's notes, Foreman sought to keep his clients off the witness stand where they would have been asked awkward questions about the Hunts.

"Everett will take Foreman's guidance completely," wrote Hudson. "He will not keep appointment Everett and Patrick McCann. Bunker Hunt authorized an with D.A. (District Attorney). Everett will not give info to the D.A. or the grand jury except in return for complete immunity which Foreman feels sure D.A. cannot or will not grant."

To cover Foreman's fee, the notes indicate, Bunker signed a $100,000 I.O.U. to Hudson. About the same time, Hudson withdrew two $50,000 "bearer" checks from his account. Foreman gave him two receipts for $50,000, one on the same day the check was dated, the other, two days after the check date.

We have obtained copies of the checks and receipts, which are in the grand jury's hands.

In case Foreman's magic failed, the three wiretappers were also offered hush money while they were in jail so long as they didn't betray the Hunts. Kelly testified he was promised $1,250 a month while in jail, "providing I did not talk."

McCann said he was offered the same deal, and Everett claimed he was promised $800 a month after he gave his assurance he "didn't loan on cooperating with the government."

Although the "hush money" was never paid, according to the testimony, the legal fees for the wiretappers were picked up by the Hunts.

McCann testified that another Hunt-hired attorney warned him he would "get yourself killed if you double-cross the Hunts." McCann was sufficiently impressed to comment: "I felt like it would be financial suicide, if not other suicide, if I testified against the Hunts."

As it turned out, Foreman won an impressive initial victory for Kelly in a contempt case. But in the end, all three wiretappers were convicted.

As we previously reported, Bunker got help from Senate Judiciary Chairman James Eastland, D-Miss., in his back-stage effort to avoid indictment. There were allegations that Eastland received "a $50,000 to $60,000 payoff," which the senator denies.

In any event, both Bunker and Herbert were finally indicted on wiretapping charges in 1973.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Texas Watergate — Chapter 3

"Sometimes I Get a Spooky Feeling Around Here, Henry!"

Freeman Editorials

Lively Times in Congress

Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., House of Representatives majority leader, sat back the other day and delivered himself of a comment that epitomizes what's happening in Congress: "It's a surprise a minute. I've been here 22 years, and I haven't known the likes of it." James M. Perry, a Washington newsman, put it even more pungently: "This is the damndest Congress any of us have ever seen."

The excitement stems largely from the fact that many of the 75 freshman Democratic congressmen who have just taken the oath of office are in no mood for business as usual. They tend to feel strongly about substantive issues. They also feel strongly about procedural issues—questions of how Congress operates.

It is the latter feeling that brought the rambunctious freshmen to team up with veteran liberals in a drive to challenge the traditional power structure in the House. This coalition, rejecting the notion that committee chairman have what amounts to a vested right in their chairmanships, succeeded in dumping some of the most prestigious moguls.

There are indications that the new congressmen and their more seasoned allies are not inclined to rest on their laurels. There is a mood to get things moving as never before—specifically, to come up with independent congressional programs instead of merely disposing of whatever the President proposes. It looks like exciting times ahead at the Capitol.

Synthetic Fuel Push

In a recent interview the head of the new federal Energy Research and Development Administration singled out synthetic fuels as the current top priority item for development. Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr. noted that the government places heavy reliance on this and hopes to achieve by 1985 its goals of a million barrels a day of clean synthetic fuels derived from coal.

At about the same time, news reports brought evidence that this undertaking is under way in practical fashion. A 237-million-dollar contract for a demonstration plant to convert high-sulfur bituminous coal into clean synthetic fuel for utilities has been awarded by the Interior Department.

The projected facility will reportedly produce enough sulfur-free fuel to operate a 400-megawatt electric generation station, whose output would supply electricity for a city of around 90,000, according to the announcement, the cost of this fuel would be competitive with prices of petroleum-based fuels.

This is a promising enterprise, but certain pertinent facts must be borne in mind. Development of a large-scale synthetic fuel industry would require enormous quantities of coal far more than is now available. Much of this, it must be anticipated, would be extracted by strip mining. Thus the prospect of a massive synthetic fuel industry further emphasizes the need for firm regulation of strip mining to minimize environmental damage. Another point should be made, though coal is abundant, reserves are nevertheless finite. Dr. Seamans noted that research and development work on alternative sources of energy—solar, geothermal, and so forth—would be continued. In our judgment, the effort to develop other sources should not only be continued, but markedly stepped up. Coal, and the synthetic fuels derived from coal, will not last forever.

Illegal Campaign Gifts

The record of corporate wrongdoing related to efforts to gain political influence continues to grow. The federal grand jury indictment of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. and two of its board members raises the possibility of additional major violations of law.

As always in such cases, it must be noted that indictment is not tantamount to conviction. However, the government's detailed allegations strongly suggest that there was indeed a conspiracy to conceal a secret fund for illegal campaign contributions which in turn are said to have been deducted from corporate income tax returns. The 3M case, like others involving evasion of campaign gift laws, again emphasizes the importance of recently enacted reforms.

Flirting Right to the Very End

Big John had a great admiration for all women. When I was little, I heard him say, "Isn't that a handsome woman," when we passed something at 180 pounds or better wearing a corset laced so tight that the lady's complexion bordered on apoplexy.

Anything under 180, he regarded as "frail, sickly." He would shake his head at a 140-pounder and say, "She'll never make old bones." He never heard the word machismo, and wouldn't comprehend it if he did, but he had it all the way to his heels. He was all mah without trying to be masculine.

She had strengths and weaknesses unplumbed. In the days when guests were invited to our house, I have a suspicion that he radioed certain cryptographic messages to ladies as he poured the port from a cut glass decanter.

Big John may even have used a foot under the table, and—mirabile dictu!—touched the wrong toe. In a police lieutenant's uniform, he was 250 pounds of authority. Women addicted to uniforms found him fascinating.

He was far and away the best raconteur I knew; he could spin stories about stars and constellations and romance and danger all night long. Sadly, my mother never trusted him farther than she could throw the player piano, overhand.

In retrospect, I see that all the ladies—even the most proper ones—enjoyed his compliments, the slightly naughty smile, the direct gaze of the blue eyes. Some used to ask my mother, "Isn't it warm in here?" they expelled breath in loud puffs.

When he became old, he reverted to his lifetime addiction to learning. His room was littered with encyclopedias and dictionaries, each opened to a certain page.

He was 84 when a priest stopped in to hear big John's confession. The young man had little patience with an old man with snowy hair and trembling hands. "I have one sin to confess," he whispered, the priest, as dad told the story later, appeared to be startled.

"Yes, John," he said softly. "What is it?" "Well, I was looking through one of Jim's books on physiology. I came across a colored photo of a female. You know, full-grown type. No clothes. Anyway, I was beset by a bad thought."

The priest sighed. "Okay, John. Say a good Act of Contrition." Big John started, got caught in the middle, and couldn't remember the next line. When the priest completed absolution, he removed the stole from his neck, kissed it, and put it in a bag.

Joshing, he said, "John, I'm surprised at a man imported oil resulted in an unannounced top-level meeting Wednesday morning to consider possible delays.

With Mr. Ford himself presiding, two option papers were examined — and discarded — with the majority, including Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, strongly arguing against any retreat.

But there was debate, and it centered on this politically dangerous aspect of the President's energy program: where will the political blame be placed if taxpayers are forced to buy high-cost fuel resulting from the import duty ($1 a barrel starting Feb. 1, $2 on March 1, $3 on April 1) but have to wait many months for the proposed 12 per cent income tax rebate?

That delay could be forced by lengthy congressional debate over the form of a tax cut, during which the overwhelmingly Democratic Congress will also be trying to repeal the oil import levy.

Although recognizing the risk that Mr. Ford, not the Democrats in Congress, could well get blamed by middle and low-income families watching their home-heating bills rise month by month, the strong consensus of presidential advisors was that retreat under the threat of Ullman's virtual ultimatum would be far worse.

Indeed, the President's great public relations effort, now in full gear, to portray himself as a leader who dares to make tough and unpopular decisions to start the nation moving at last out of the energy crisis would be badly damaged, perhaps fatally, if he buckled under the first challenge from the Democrats.

When the President first decided on the import levy, less attention was given to the possibility of a congressional veto effort than to the fact — or hope — that the import levy would force Congress quickly to enact the rest of the President's energy package, all parts of which are inextricably connected. The sudden White House meeting, however, shows that the political dangers are now clearly perceived.

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The White House has just been handed this tough warning from the Republican party's right wing: President Ford will be held responsible for any leftward drift on the part of Vice President Nelson Rockefeller.

Specifically, the warning concerns the biennial Senate fight on the anti-filibuster rule, Rule XXII, which may require a parliamentary decision by Rockefeller as presiding officer of the Senate. Clarke Reed, Mississippi state chairman and a nationally important conservative leader, put it bluntly to White House chief-of-staff Donald Rumsfeld last week: we will hold the President responsible for whatever Rockefeller does; we will blame the President if Rockefeller's ruling helps anti-filibuster forces.

Although passage of civil rights legislation has taken much of the old racial sting from the Senate Rule XXII fight, conservatives want to retain the filibuster as a weapon against the liberal majority. But Reed's warning to the White House far transcends filibusters.

It is intended to put Mr. Ford on notice that, having nominated Rockefeller against the wishes of the right, he is now responsible for Rockefeller's actions. The toughness of the warning reflects a growing feeling in the Republican party, particularly among its conservatives, that Mr. Ford will not run in 1976 despite his early announcement of candidacy and that Rockefeller and Ronald Reagan will battle it out.

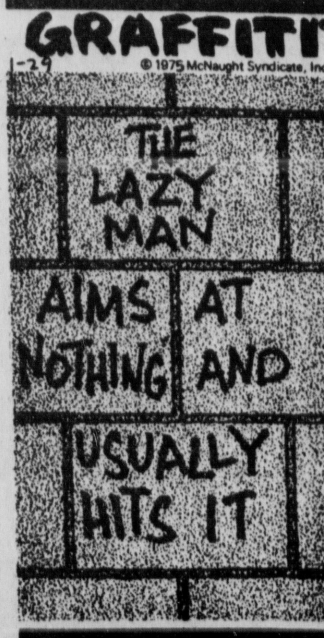

Despite Reed's warning, there is no sign of the President giving any stage directions at all to his Vice President on how to handle the rules fight. The White House says the decision is Rockefeller's. Indeed, seeing counsel from the White House last week, Rockefeller heard sharply divided opinions. At this writing, he has not discussed the ruling with the President himself.

The Right Warns

The Reader Writes

N-Power Safe

Editor, The Freeman:

Having read the technically incompetent letters against the use of nuclear power in the Hudson Valley, I think it is necessary to dispel the myths and emotions that surround the use of nuclear power.

These letters by Mr. E. J. Wojciechowski and Mr. Ned Le-Hack attempt to instill fear into the citizenry of our area by irresponsibly injecting ostensible "facts" about isotopes, weather conditions and radioactivity.

Mr. Wojciechowski has developed nuclear fog and ever-increasing radiation levels—a la Jules Verne. Mr. Le-Hack has plucked isotopes out of the reactor (iodine, tritium and krypton) and somehow managed to propel them through staggering thicknesses of lead, polyethylene, water, steel and concrete. He also recommends fusion as a good alternative to our energy needs. (Why not; the hydrogen bomb works well?)

Nuclear power is the only answer to our nation's crippling energy problem. It has been proven safe for the purpose of generating electrical power in our country and at this point is less expensive than fossil fuel; not to mention that we have the refined nuclear fuel in our possession now. It is cleaner than both oil or coal and its exclusive use for electrical power can go a long way toward shortening unemployment lines and bolstering our country's independent strength.

To these gentlemen and to any opponent of nuclear power I pose the following questions:

1. If nuclear reactors are dangerous, how can U.S. Navy ships (with multiple reactors) dock in major cities all over the world without inflicting injury or death on the natives?

2. Why can people live within 1/2 mile of two operating reactors in Saratoga County for over ten years and receive less total radiation than that received from one routine chest X-ray?

Sincerely,
Robert M. Hemingway

Re: Your issue of Thursday, Jan. 16, 1975

It is clear that Mr. Peter Borrelli of The Catskill Center for Conservation and Development, who is not authorized to speak for all the members of that organization, and who is so eager to open the Ashokan Reservoir to recreation lives in Hobart and not in the Town of Olive.

When I first walked on Reservoir land in 1940 (armed with a fishing permit) I was delighted to find a variety of wild flowers and ferns that simply do not grow in the mountains.

Now when I walk there, I find plastic bags, and empty soft drink and beer cans which weigh less than when they were brought in. If some sportsmen don't know enough to carry out empty cans, what would happen when the general public got in?

It seems to me that if the legislature could require New York City to meter its water, that would substantially reduce waste, and therefore demand. This would solve the water problems quite adequately for generations to come.

All the experts who want to open up the Ashokan Reservoir seem to ignore its fragile and unique ecology. They also ignore the well being and wishes of the residents of the area. There are plenty of state parks already in existence, served by adequate roads. These could be expanded, for example there are lakes and woodland at Minnewaska.

Raise Exemption

Editor, The Freeman:

The Woodstock Town board will hold a public hearing February 4, at 8 p.m. to consider raising the exemption from the present $5,000 to $6,500 for senior citizens who qualify.

The Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association, Inc., is 100% in favor of increasing the amount to $6,500.

Every taxpayer who qualifies is urged to attend this meeting, and show his support.

Sincerely,
Fred G. Freitag,
President

Saugerties Support

Dear Editor, The Freeman:

How do we, as citizens of the town of Saugerties, fight these unwarranted verbal attacks on Mr. Cody, and now our elected Town Board as a body? What are these people hoping to gain? What are they looking for?

This is an election year, folks. Maybe you will be seeing their letters to the Editor right up until their names are on the ballots. Are they just flexing their pens for exercise? Are we going to sit by until they force resignations on the Zoning Board or may have the good citizens on the Zoning Commission fold up their notes and throw them back into the laps of the Town Board prematurely?

The Town Board and the people on the Zoning Commission are just that—people—citizens of Saugerties, not strangers. They live here too, and they cared enough to be involved right from the beginning in an unpopular job. They have given, and will continue to give, a great deal of time and effort to do a good job for the people of Saugerties.

Don't leave our Town Board and Zoning Commission defenseless against a handful of dissenters. Our citizens on the Zoning Commission aren't dictating; they are researching every area. A careful, time-consuming study must be allowed. If zoning is adopted, it will affect everyone in Saugerties for generations. Remember, there are no state laws forcing Saugerties to adopt zoning. Speak up; this is your town too. Every responsible citizen should make his feelings known. Hopefully, when the facts are in, we too, in the town, will have a public referendum to advise the Town Board of our feelings.

Sincerely yours,
Dorothy Dederick

Board Slates Public Survey

KINGSTON

A systematic survey of the public, the first "in recent memory," will be launched early next month in the Kingston Consolidated School District, according to district officials.

The survey is part of "Project Questa," a survey of the attitudes of and perceptions of all of the school system's components.

The survey was announced jointly by Joseph Feraca, the president of the Kingston City Schools Consolidated Board of Education, and Superintendent Louis J. Salzmann.

Conducting the survey will be a team of community volunteers, drawn from the district's parent-teacher organizations, the statement said. From 300 to 400 homes, chosen according to "carefully controlled random procedures," are to be sampled.

"For some time now the board has been concerned about involving the community in the long range assessment of local educational goals and programs," Feraca said.

"This is a most important step in community participation in educational planning and the survey is being viewed as providing essential information for decision making," he said.

The community survey is being carried on in conjunction with similar surveys of the district's students, teachers and administrators.

According to the statement, the surveys are to see how various parties perceive similar situations, or programs in the school.

Cited as examples of the kinds of information the surveys were seeking were the kinds of personal pressures students feel, their attitudes toward school rules, how students communicate with teachers or with administrators, as well as reactions toward specific programs and curricula.

Both the board and school administration feel these are valuable things to learn about, according to the statement.

"The comparison of how the different groups react to similar questions should be particularly informative," the statement said.

"It is expected that the results of the survey will serve as a means of intensifying public interest and establishing common ground on which to increase communication about educational affairs," said Feraca.

He said the findings were to be broken into separate areas, with each area pursued by the board, administration and community groups.

According to the procedures announced for the survey, the homes will be selected completely by chance, and anonymity is assured those who fill out questionnaires. No personal information will be asked, and the anonymous completed questionnaire will be put in an envelope and sealed before the persons conducting the survey can see it.

All of the volunteers will carry identification, according to the statement, and those asked to complete a questionnaire "should feel free to ask for it."

The survey is to be completed in February, with the results available by mid-April, allowing the rest of the school year for analysis and community involvement.

Grist Mill Benefit Party Scheduled

Does the cheese complement the wine, or does the wine complement the cheese? Do you prefer a white wine from France or one from Germany? These and other relative decisions can make for a delightful afternoon on Sunday, Feb. 9 when Sawyerkill Restaurant becomes the scene of the Third Annual Wine and Cheese Tasting Party sponsored by the Little Sawyer Association. Festivities will begin at 2 p.m., and the music of Papa Bear will help to make the afternoon of decisions a pleasant experience.

A small number of tickets are still available by contacting Ticket Chairman Mrs. James Dargan, Bennett Avenue, Saugerties. Proceeds from the party will benefit the rebuilding of the Saugerties Grist Mill, which is the prime objective of the Little Sawyer Association. The group's ultimate goal is to have the mill operative as Saugerties' participation in the National Bicentennial in 1976. Application has already been made to have the Grist Mill area designated as a State Historic Site.

The remains of the Grist Mill are located at the northern end of Seamon Park. The foundations of the old pre-Revolutionary mill can be seen along the Sawyer Kill just over the parking lot's stone wall; at the end of the parking lot are displayed some of the larger pieces of the mill works which were dug out of the foundations in the summer of 1971.

The Mill's rebuilding is being attempted by the Association, which was founded in April, 1971 by townsmen interested in having the old mill standing once more as a part of the heritage of Saugerties. One of the first steps in its reconstruction was the pouring of footings for a walk-way to the foundations, since the original road to the mill now lies far below the present parking lot. The Association also acquired an old mill of similar size and construction which was located in Highland. Members and friends dismantled the mechanism, carefully removed the hand-hewn wood-pegged beams and wide floor boards, and brought the fruits of their salvage to Seamon Park to be used in the rebuilding of the Saugerties Grist Mill.

DECISIONS, DECISIONS...Committee members (l-r) Mrs. Edward Jabs, Mrs. James Dargan, and Mrs. Charles Fous ponder the task of putting the decorative touch to plans for the upcoming Wine and Cheese Tasting Party. Colorful travel posters will emphasize the international selection of wines and cheese, while candles will add their own special sparkle to the afternoon. The benefit is being sponsored by the Little Sawyer Association and is set for Sunday, Feb. 9 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Sawyerkill Restaurant. (Freeman photo)

Christian Women Plan February Brunch

An executive committee meeting of the newly formed Saugerties-Woodstock Christian Women's Club was held recently to plan for the group's February brunch. The event will take place Monday, Feb. 10 at 11:30 a.m. at the Saugerties Howard Johnson's banquet room.

Highlights of the program will include a special feature by Precious Pot, owned by Bobbie Decker of Saugerties, and musical selections by soloist Lewis Gaylord, a well known area vocalist. Meetings are climaxed with outstanding speakers from across the country. This month's speaker will be Mrs. Natalie Howell of Mill Neck whose message promises to offer answers to many of life's challenges, life's challenges.

One of 1300 Christian Women's Clubs across the North American Continent, the organization is unique in that no dues are required. All ladies are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Maurice Glover of Saugerties; Mrs. Vernon Fairbanks of Woodstock; Mrs. Lawrence Brooks, Athens; or Mrs. A.D. Boomhower, Kingston. Nursery care is provided free of charge. Reservations are essential and cancellations required.

Benefit Dinner

A spaghetti and meatball dinner will be held Saturday for the benefit of the Rosendale Library. Servings will be from 5 to 8 p.m. at Rosendale firehall, Main Street, Rosendale. The event is being sponsored by Active Hose Company No. 1 Firemen and Ladies Auxiliary.

Schneider-Thornton Vows Exchanged

The wedding of Lee Anne Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin A. Schneider of Claverack, and Lawrence George Thornton, son of Mrs. William D. Thornton of Saugerties and the late M. Thornton, took place at St. Thomas Lutheran Church in Churchtown.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Herbert Hinman, pastor of St. Thomas Church, assisted by the Rev. Peter V. Kranch, pastor of Church of the Holy Cross, Taghkanic. Mrs. Edward Varney, organist, provided wedding selections. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long sleeved Empire style silk jersey gown. The bodice featured a lace inset bordered with a band of seed pearls offset by an heirloom cameo belonging to the bride's mother. The matching headpiece held a shoulder-length lace French-embroidered veil which terminated in a floor length tulle train. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Susan D. Schneider of Greenville, S.C., sister of the bride, wore a forest green silk jersey gown identical in styling to the bride's. She carried a bouquet of white snowdrift pompons and red garnet sweetheart roses. A cluster of white pompons served as her headpiece.

Attendants were Mrs. Joan Foley, sister of the bridegroom, Dawn Testa, Mrs. Deborah Zindell and Mrs. Carolyn Umlauf. Their berry red dresses were fashioned identically to the maid of honor's. They carried cluster bouquets and wore matching floral headbands.

Miss Christine Thornton, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a forest green silk jersey gown designed by Mrs. Foley. The gown featured a white organdy pinafore trimmed in ruffled French peau d'ange lace. She carried a plateau basket of snowdrift pompons and red garnet roses and wore a comb of pompons in her hair.

David M. Thornton of Saugerties was best man for his brother. Ushers were Erwin A. Schneider, brother of the bride; William D. Thornton, brother of the bridegroom; Eugene Foley, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Peter Chadwick.

A reception was given at Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck, after which the couple left for a trip to Runaway Bay, Jamaica. The bride is an alumna of Mt. Vernon College, Washington, D.C. and State University of New York at Albany. She is a member of the faculty at Taconic Hills Jr. High School, Hillsdale. The bridegroom is a graduate of State University of New York at Utica. He is employed as advertising manager of Old Dutch Newspapers Inc., Saugerties. The couple will reside in Blue Mountain, Saugerties.

Tying in the themes "An Open Door To The Ellenville Community Hospital Family" and "As Long As You're Outside Looking In, We're Happy As You Are", the community hospital launched its 1975 Sustaining Fund Drive. Approximately 6000 sustaining membership request cards and accompanying postage-paid return envelopes were put into the mail this week to area residents.

The full message plus a membership coupon is printed on a special-fold card which notes that: "a membership contribution of $5 or more entitles the donor to a membership card in the hospital family plus the privilege of voting at annual and special meetings of the hospital."

Donor drive funds plus other hospital fundraisers like the institution's annual dinner help the hospital to secure new health-care equipment and the very special services required by today's medicine. Money raised during the 1975 drive will be used for vitally needed hospital equipment. Members of the area community who have contributed to the 1974 Dinner Donor Fund automatically qualify for 1975 Sustaining Fund membership and will receive their individualized cards shortly.

Area residents who do not receive a Sustaining Fund letter and wish to participate as a sustaining fund member of the Ellenville community hospital should call each today for a membership coupon, or mail their checks for five dollars or more together with their name and address. All contributions to ellenville community hospital are tax-deductible.

Sandwich King Returns With 'New,' Old African Recipe

Sandwich King Jim Best has returned to his Oakland, Cal., home from the African safari he won, brimming with more new food ideas.

Competing with other food service professionals and students, Best created the "Hawaiian Farmer" to take top honors and the grand travel prize in the 1974 National Sandwich Idea Contest. It proved just another feather in his cap. Always anticipating consumer needs, the 53-year-old marketing manager of Mannings, Inc., of San Francisco has earned a reputation as an innovator in the restaurant field.

During the temporary meat shortage in 1973, Best planned menus requiring less meat. Last year, he designed menus that need less heat to prepare and organized emergency menus for kitchens totally without power.

While on safari in Mombasa, Kenya, overlooking the Indian Ocean, Jim Best wrote: "Breads are all baked on premise; this also includes cakes and pies . . . in most cases, it is very good — just a little coarse, probably something like what foods were like in the USA back in the 1800's. Round loaves of whole wheat bread, baked in outdoor, wood-burning ovens are a nourishing and delectable part of every meal."

Best's East African Whole Wheat Bread is from an old, traditional recipe adapted to modern American kitchens — with delightful results. The flavor of the flat loaves, together with the crunchy crusts and chewy centers, make a simple meal of bread, cheese and fresh fruit an exotic taste experience.

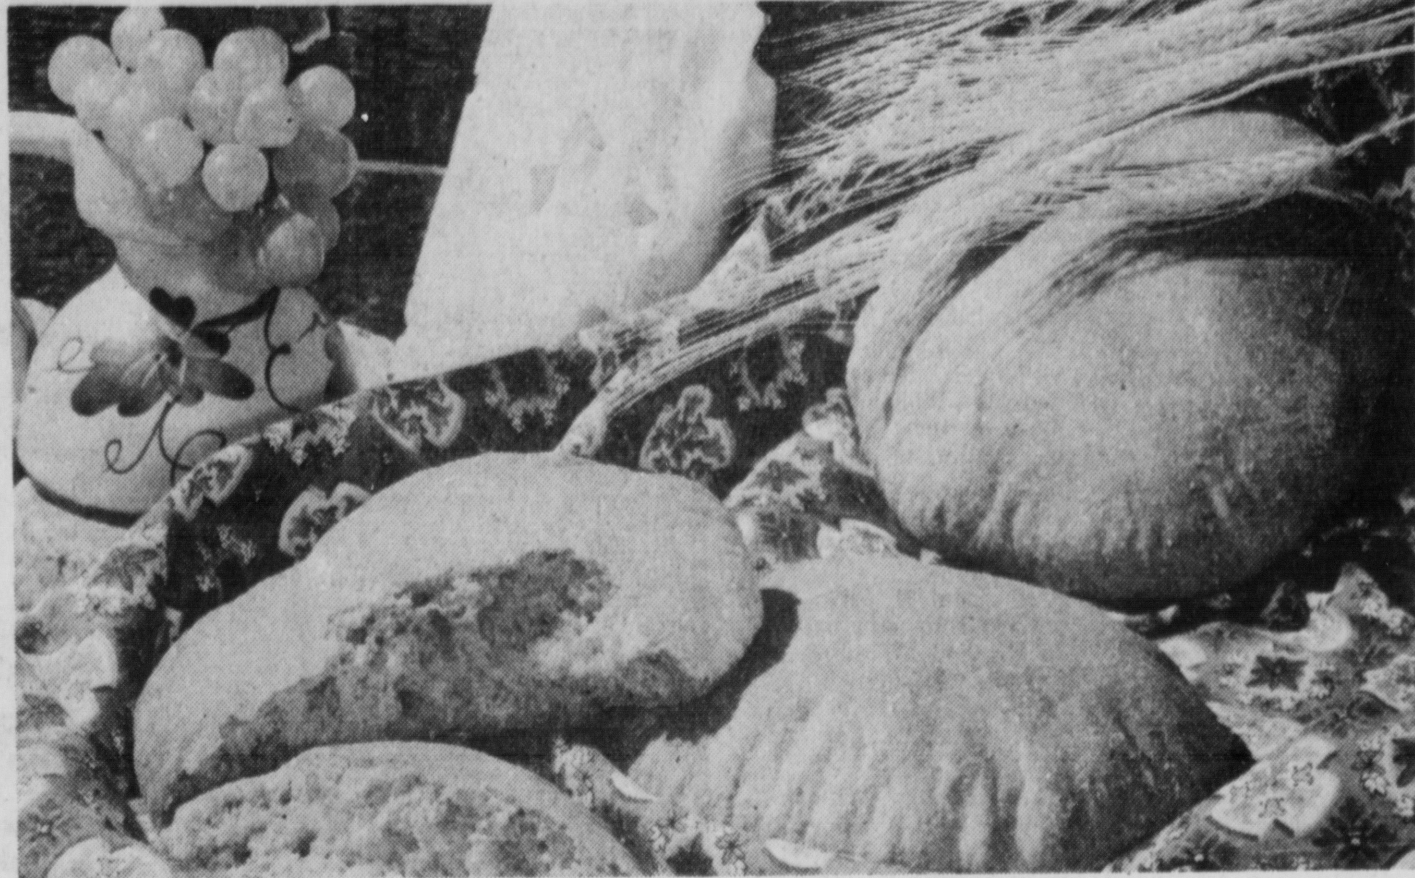

East African Whole Wheat Bread is simple to make. The extra-long kneading period gives the bread its marvelously chewy texture. This recipe produces only three loaves — make a double batch so you're sure to have enough for everyone.

East African Whole Wheat Bread

3 loaves
Two cups whole wheat flour
Two to two and one-half cups enriched flour★
Two packages yeast
One tablespoon salt
One and one-half cups water
Two tablespoons oil
Two tablespoons honey
Stir together whole wheat flour, two cups enriched flour. In large mixing bowl stir together one and one-half cups flour mixture, yeast and salt. Heat water, oil and honey to warm (120 to 130 degree). Add liquid to flour mixture and beat two minutes on electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Stir in more flour to make moderately stiff dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead 10 minutes. Shape into ball and place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled, about one hour. Divide dough into three equal parts; on ungreased baking sheet roll each into one-half-inch thick disc. Rise 30 minutes. Bake in preheated 375 degree oven 35 to 40 minutes, or until done.

★ Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.

Get Off the Fence on the Rich Side

By Abigail Van Buren
1974 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old divorcee who is engaged to marry a 29-year-old man I'll call "Ira."

I have two children who are being raised by my mother because I work and can't keep them, but I intend to quit work and take the children after I'm married.

My problem is Ira's parents. We announced our engagement over the holidays and are planning a spring wedding.

Ira's parents are very wealthy. He is an only son and they are of another religion. When we announced our engagement, they tried to appear happy, but they couldn't hide their disappointment.

A few days ago I got a call (at work) from the attorney who represents Ira's father. He said he wanted to see me. We met and, to make a long story short, Ira's father has offered me a large sum of money if I will break the engagement. It's enough to take care of me for a long time, and surely until I find another man.

Ira is in his father's business and they are an affectionate and closely knit family, so if I married him I would never feel "accepted." I care for him a lot, but to be honest, the money is tempting. I'm attractive enough to get another man soon. In fact, I know two right now who would marry me tomorrow, but the security isn't quite as good with one, and the other is 52.

What should I do?

ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: Since you're on the fence, I think you should get off on the side with the money. If you really cared for Ira, you'd have been insulted and outraged by such a proposition. But since you're considering it, and asking me what you should do, I say . . . take it!

DEAR ABBY: Dad got Mom a portable TV for Christmas so she could watch it in the kitchen. Now it's always on the table when we have supper. We get the news mostly, but that's not the problem. The problem is that nobody can say a word at the table anymore because the TV is on, and Dad wants to hear it.

We used to talk about other things, and bring up family matters at the table because that's really the only time the whole family gets together. No more.

I am only 12 and I don't run this house, but I sure wish I could tell my folks to take the TV off the supper table without getting creamed.

NUMBER ONE SON
DEAR SON: You sound like a bright and reasonable young man. Why don't you just tell 'em like you told me? I think you have a good case.

DEAR ABBY: I can understand why you would advocate doing away with the sexist salutation of "Dear Sir" in a business letter, but a reader's suggestion of "Dear Y'all" is not the answer.

It might be appropriate for the southland, but not for other sections of the country.

May I offer "Youse guys" for residents of New York and parts of New Jersey?

WESTERNER
DEAR WESTERNER: You may offer it, but only those who speak pure Brooklynese will buy it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a dinner party in November. The host and hostess also invited other guests we did not know and in whom we had little interest, and have done so several times in the past. This time we refused as politely as we could by explaining that we would prefer spending an evening with them alone rather than with persons of little or no interest to us. They said they understood and would invite us again at a later date, but so far no invitation has been forthcoming. Should we ask them to our house, even though we did not attend their party?

Mrs. J. Buckley
Dear Mrs. Buckley: I think you made a great mistake, and I suspect you haven't heard from your friends again because you have led them to believe you would not be very interesting guests, yourselves. How can you possibly expand your range of friends and acquaintances if you refuse to go to parties where there are people you do not know? One of the primary reasons for social entertainment is to get to know new people. You may think you don't have much in common with strangers, but you might be surprised. If you don't you need never see the new people again, but you may be missing a very interesting experience by not even giving yourself a chance to become acquainted.

If you value your hosts' friendship, ask them to your home for dinner as soon as possible. Perhaps it is not too late to change the impression you have made.

LEGAL NOTICES

LOCAL LAW NO. 2
FOR THE YEAR 1975
A LOCAL LAW
PROVIDING A PLAN
OF REAPPORTIONMENT FOR
THE ULSTER COUNTY LEGISLATURE

COUNTY OF ULSTER,
NEW YORK
BE IT ENACTED by the Legislature of the County of Ulster as follows:

SECTION 1. DESIGNATION AND NUMBER
The legislative body of the County of Ulster on and after the effective date of this local law shall be known as the Ulster County Legislature. The Ulster County Legislature shall consist of thirty-three (33) members elected at large from 9 legislative districts in accordance with Section 4 hereof.

SECTION 2. TERM
The term of office of each member of the Ulster County Legislature shall be two (2) years commencing on the 1st day of January following the general election of 1975, and thereafter commencing on the 1st day of January following each subsequent general election held during the odd year of the decennial period.

SECTION 3. APPOINTMENT BASE
The apportionment of the Ulster County Legislature shall be based on the last official Federal decennial census for total county population.

SECTION 4. LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS
Each of the following described legislative districts shall elect that number of representatives to the Ulster County Legislature from within its boundaries as hereinafter set forth:

Dist.	Description	No. of Reps.
Dist. 1	Wawarsing, Denning, Hardenburgh	3
Dist. 2	Shandaken, Woodstock, Kingston (Town)	2
Dist. 3	Saugerties	4
Dist. 4	Kingston (City)	4
Dist. 5	Olive, Hurley, Ulster	5
Dist. 6	Esopus, Rosendale	3
Dist. 7	Rochester	2
Dist. 8	Marbletown	2
Dist. 9	Shawangunk, Gardiner, New Paltz	4

SECTION 5. ORGANIZATION, PROCEDURE, MEETINGS
The Ulster County Legislature shall organize itself, hold meetings and conduct its business in accordance with and pursuant to Article 4 of the County Law of the State of New York.

SECTION 6. VACANCIES
A vacancy in the Ulster County Legislature shall be filled in accordance with the provisions of the Public Officers Law and the County Law of the State of New York.

SECTION 7. ELECTED OFFICE
No person who holds an elective county office shall be eligible to hold at the same time any other elective county office, or any elective office of any city, town or village.

SECTION 8. CONSTRUCTION
This local law shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof and to effect the apportionment and districting of Ulster County in compliance with the Order of the Supreme Court of Ulster County dated May 4, 1973 and the amended Order of said Court dated May 4, 1973.

SECTION 9. INTENTION
(a) It is intended that the apportionment and districting herein provided shall result in a County Legislature which shall conform to judicial and constitutional standards of equality of representation.

(b) It is further intended that this local law and the legislative districts herein described, completely encompass all of the geographical areas of Ulster County.

(c) It is further intended that the legislative districts described herein contain the total permanent population of Ulster County as determined by the 1970 official decennial census.

(d) It is further intended that no legislative district described herein shall include any geographical area of Ulster County which is included within the description of any other district.

SECTION 10. MISCELLANEOUS
If the districts described herein do not carry out the purposes thereof because of unintentional omissions, duplications, overlapping areas, erroneous nomenclature, lack of adequate maps or descriptions of political subdivisions, the County Clerk, at the request of any person or candidate aggrieved thereby, shall, by order, correct such omissions, overlaps, erroneous nomenclature, or other defects in the description of districts so as to accomplish the purposes and objectives of this local law.

SECTION 11. CHAPTER 834, LAWS OF 1969
This local law is adopted pursuant to Chapter 834, Laws of 1969.

SECTION 12. PRESENT COUNTY LEGISLATURE
The County Legislature as existing immediately before the time this local law takes effect, shall continue to be the legislative body of Ulster County until the expiration of the terms of the Legislators then in office except for the purpose of an election of county legislators for full terms which shall commence at such expiration.

SECTION 13. SEPARABILITY
If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or other part of this local law shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

And moves its adoption.
Motion by Legislator Gardner, seconded by Legislator Snyder to remove Local Law Introductory No. 8 of 1974 from the table for adoption.

Motion adopted 23-10. Voting Noe on the motion—Legislators Barthel, Dwyer, Carroll, Gilpatrick, Houck, Kirschner, Klein, Perry, Resnick and Thornton.

LEGAL NOTICES

LOCAL LAW NO. 2
FOR THE YEAR 1975
A LOCAL LAW
PROVIDING A PLAN
OF REAPPORTIONMENT FOR
THE ULSTER COUNTY LEGISLATURE

COUNTY OF ULSTER,
NEW YORK
BE IT ENACTED by the Legislature of the County of Ulster as follows:

SECTION 1. DESIGNATION AND NUMBER
The legislative body of the County of Ulster on and after the effective date of this local law shall be known as the Ulster County Legislature. The Ulster County Legislature shall consist of thirty-three (33) members elected at large from 9 legislative districts in accordance with Section 4 hereof.

SECTION 2. TERM
The term of office of each member of the Ulster County Legislature shall be two (2) years commencing on the 1st day of January following the general election of 1975, and thereafter commencing on the 1st day of January following each subsequent general election held during the odd year of the decennial period.

SECTION 3. APPOINTMENT BASE
The apportionment of the Ulster County Legislature shall be based on the last official Federal decennial census for total county population.

SECTION 4. LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS
Each of the following described legislative districts shall elect that number of representatives to the Ulster County Legislature from within its boundaries as hereinafter set forth:

Dist.	Description	No. of Reps.
Dist. 1	Wawarsing, Denning, Hardenburgh	3
Dist. 2	Shandaken, Woodstock, Kingston (Town)	2
Dist. 3	Saugerties	4
Dist. 4	Kingston (City)	4
Dist. 5	Olive, Hurley, Ulster	5
Dist. 6	Esopus, Rosendale	3
Dist. 7	Rochester	2
Dist. 8	Marbletown	2
Dist. 9	Shawangunk, Gardiner, New Paltz	4

SECTION 5. ORGANIZATION, PROCEDURE, MEETINGS
The Ulster County Legislature shall organize itself, hold meetings and conduct its business in accordance with and pursuant to Article 4 of the County Law of the State of New York.

SECTION 6. VACANCIES
A vacancy in the Ulster County Legislature shall be filled in accordance with the provisions of the Public Officers Law and the County Law of the State of New York.

SECTION 7. ELECTED OFFICE
No person who holds an elective county office shall be eligible to hold at the same time any other elective county office, or any elective office of any city, town or village.

SECTION 8. CONSTRUCTION
This local law shall be liberally construed to effect the purposes thereof and to effect the apportionment and districting of Ulster County in compliance with the Order of the Supreme Court of Ulster County dated May 4, 1973 and the amended Order of said Court dated May 4, 1973.

SECTION 9. INTENTION
(a) It is intended that the apportionment and districting herein provided shall result in a County Legislature which shall conform to judicial and constitutional standards of equality of representation.

(b) It is further intended that this local law and the legislative districts herein described, completely encompass all of the geographical areas of Ulster County.

(c) It is further intended that the legislative districts described herein contain the total permanent population of Ulster County as determined by the 1970 official decennial census.

(d) It is further intended that no legislative district described herein shall include any geographical area of Ulster County which is included within the description of any other district.

SECTION 10. MISCELLANEOUS
If the districts described herein do not carry out the purposes thereof because of unintentional omissions, duplications, overlapping areas, erroneous nomenclature, lack of adequate maps or descriptions of political subdivisions, the County Clerk, at the request of any person or candidate aggrieved thereby, shall, by order, correct such omissions, overlaps, erroneous nomenclature, or other defects in the description of districts so as to accomplish the purposes and objectives of this local law.

SECTION 11. CHAPTER 834, LAWS OF 1969
This local law is adopted pursuant to Chapter 834, Laws of 1969.

SECTION 12. PRESENT COUNTY LEGISLATURE
The County Legislature as existing immediately before the time this local law takes effect, shall continue to be the legislative body of Ulster County until the expiration of the terms of the Legislators then in office except for the purpose of an election of county legislators for full terms which shall commence at such expiration.

SECTION 13. SEPARABILITY
If any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or other part of this local law shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

And moves its adoption.
Motion by Legislator Gardner, seconded by Legislator Snyder to remove Local Law Introductory No. 8 of 1974 from the table for adoption.

Motion adopted 23-10. Voting Noe on the motion—Legislators Barthel, Dwyer, Carroll, Gilpatrick, Houck, Kirschner, Klein, Perry, Resnick and Thornton.

LOCAL LAW ADOPTED BY THE FOLLOWING VOTE:

AYES 21 NOES 12
Voting Noe: Legislators Barthel, Carroll, Dwyer, Gilpatrick, Gorman, Houck, Kirschner, Kithcart, Klein, Perry, Resnick and Thornton.

City Man Sentenced

KINGSTON
A 20-year-old city man named previously in a three-count indictment in connection with a Stone Ridge burglary last August was sentenced in county court recently to 1½ to four years in Clinton Correctional Facility at Dannemora.

Paul J. Lindberg of 27 Grove Street had previously pleaded guilty to third degree burglary, the top count of the indictment, which also charged him with petit larceny and possession of burglar's tools.

Lindberg was arrested last August by State Police along with Kenneth Charles Scott, 24, of 82 Hoffman Street after the pair allegedly burglarized the Smith Henneke Stamping Corporation on Route 213 in Stone Ridge. Police said following the arrests that the pair allegedly admitted to a total of some 37 area burglaries. Scott was sentenced last week to a maximum of five years at the Dannemore facility.

Prior to sentencing Monday, First Assistant District Attorney Ellen G. Donovan recommended a prison term, explaining that it had previously been agreed that the DA's office would forego prosecution on remaining alleged burglaries if Lindberg were sentenced to a prison term.

Lindberg's attorney, Michael Federoff, termed the crime one "basically of stupidity," said his client "wants to pay his debt to society and start leading a more productive life." He urged County Judge Raymond J. Mino, who presided, to take into consideration Lindberg's relative youth and 5½ months he has spent in the county jail in passing sentence.

In sentencing Lindberg, Judge Mino explained that the stipulation of a minimum term makes it possible for Lindberg to receive credit for time served.

NFL Stocks Up on Beef

NEW YORK (UPI) — National Football League clubs stocked up on the beef Tuesday and only the scraps are left for today.

NFL teams went heavily for linemen in the opening seven rounds of the annual college player draft Monday, taking nearly a ton and a half of line talent in the first round alone and leaving very few name players for today's final 10 rounds.

The players who are left are hardly household names.

Three quarterbacks — Chris Kupec, the NCAA pass percentage record holder from North Carolina, Rick Worley of Howard Payne and Alvin White of Oregon State — should go early today. Probably the best running back still available is Brad Davis of Louisiana State and the top wide receivers are Ritch Bahe of Nebraska, Pete Demmerle of Notre Dame and Dwight McDonald, the NCAA receiving king from San Diego State.

Dan Natale of Penn State heads the group of tight ends available while 6-foot-6, 250-pound offensive tackle Caesar Douglas of little Illinois Wesleyan also should be drafted high today.

Monday's early going belonged almost exclusively to the linemen. Besides the 12 taken on the first round, 67 of the 182 players chosen Monday were linemen.

After Atlanta opened the draft by taking California quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the "Beef Parade" began — and it didn't include Line-man of the Year Randy White, the Maryland star who was chosen second by Dallas as a linebacker.

Guard Ken Huff of North Carolina went to Baltimore as the No. 3 pick and Chicago took running back Walter Payton of Jackson State. Cleveland grabbed defensive end Mack Mitchell of the University of Houston and Houston selected linebacker Robert Brazile, also of Jackson State.

Olympic sprinter Larry Burton of Purdue went to New Orleans as a wide receiver and then six straight linemen were chosen. Three defensive tackles went in order — Gary "Big Hands" Johnson of Grambling to San Diego, Mike Fanning of Notre Dame to Los Angeles and Jimmy Webb of Mississippi State to San Francisco.

Los Angeles, in fact, had three first round picks and made them all tackles.

The second was offensive tackle Dennis Harrah of Miami (Fla.), selected just before the New York Jets dealt their No. 1 pick to New Orleans for veteran defensive end Billy Newsome. The Saints then picked tackle Kurt Schumacher of Ohio State.

Guard Lynn Boden of South Dakota State was the sixth lineman taken, going to Detroit.

Cincinnati took linebacker Anthony Davis, the Heisman Trophy runnerup from USC, went to the New York Jets on the second round as the 37th player taken and two-time All America line-backer Rod Shoate of Oklahoma went to New England four picks later. Linebacker Richard Wood, Davis' well-known teammate, also went to the Jets on the third round.

Roosevelt Leaks of Texas, a record smasher in the Southwest Conference as a junior but injured most of his senior year, went to Baltimore in the fifth round and Oakland took David Humm, Nebraska's passing star. Two more successful quarterbacks were picked a round later. Penn State's Tom Shuman was taken by Cincinnati and Michigan's Dennis Franklin went to Detroit.

Two other quarterbacks highlighted the seventh round — Stene Joachim, the NCAA total offense leader from Temple, going Baltimore and Pat Haden, the Rhodes Scholar from Southern Cal, being taken by Los Angeles.

Ohio State, Nebraska and Southern California each had eight players chosen in the first seven rounds and Houston had seven. The Big Eight was the leading conference with 24 selections.

Other major trades during the first day of the draft saw disgruntled running back Cid Edwards going from San Diego to Chicago for a draft choice, defensive back Henry Stuckey from Miami to the New York Giants for a draft pick, wide receiver Reggie Rucker going from New England to Cleveland for a draft choice and running back Jim Harrison going from Chicago to San Diego for a draft pick.

SPORTS / TODAY

THE DAILY FREEMAN, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1975 15

Will Freddie Keep Horse?

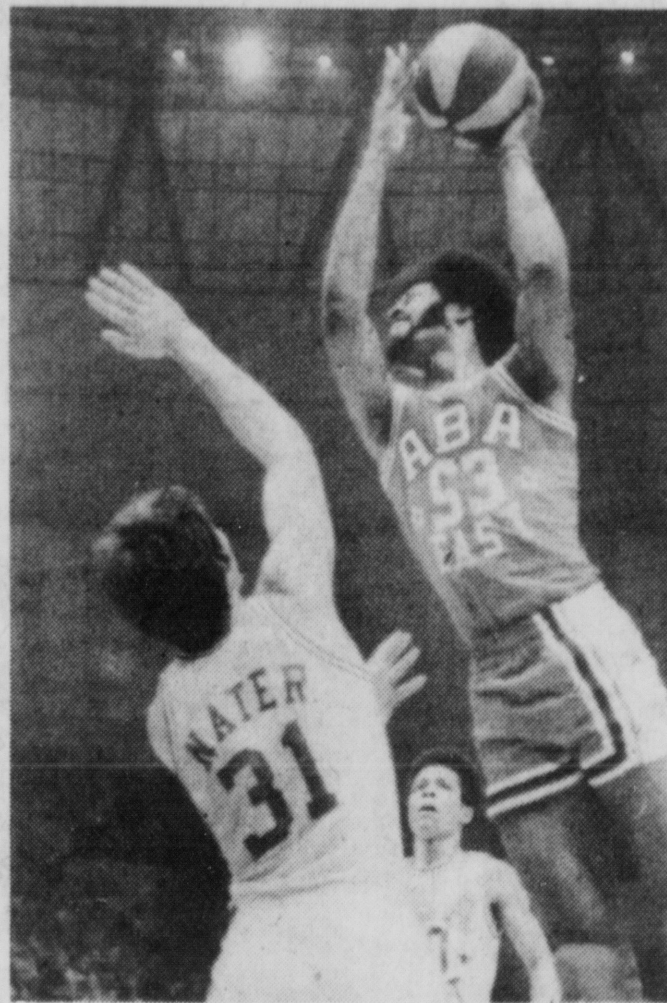

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — About the only thing left undecided following Tuesday night's American Basketball Association all-star game was whether little Freddie Lewis of St. Louis will keep his quarter horse.

Lewis, a six-footer in a game which considers that short, led all scorers with 26 points, logged more playing time than any other all-star, had 11 assists, two steals and was the symbol of the East's 151-124 domination of the West in the league's eighth annual midseason exhibition.

Instead of the usual trophy, Lewis' prize as most valuable player was a quarterhorse named "Tough Julie" or $2,000 cash.

"I haven't made up my mind yet which I want," he said.

From the second quarter on, there was no question which team was the best. After playing to a 32-32 first quarter tie, the East led throughout, heavily outscoring the West in each of the remaining quarters and breezing to all-star records for the most points (151) and most total points (275).

ABA Healthy

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The American Basketball Association came away from its midseason meetings today with a slightly healthier glow.

The financial makeup of the league has been improved and there are increasing hopes the ABA might come up with improved national television exposure next season.

At the close of their two-day meetings Tuesday, league owners announced new investors had been found to pump money into the San Diego Conquistadors franchise, which is drawing only half as many patrons as needed to reach a break even financial point.

On Monday the Indiana Pacers, another faltering ABA club, was sold to a group headed by Indianapolis businessman Thomas Binford.

That leaves Memphis as the most troublesome team left in the league, and reports were widely circulated during the ABA meeting that the Sounds would be the team moved to Cincinnati next season.

ABA commissioner Tedd Munchak has promised he would head up a Cincinnati franchise and at first he said there would be only 10 teams in the league next season — meaning one of the current clubs would be moved.

But Tuesday Munchak said if Memphis can improve its situation this year the league could operate with 11 clubs next season.

N.Y. Selections

The following players were selected by the New York teams Tuesday, the first day of the National Football League college player draft:

Jets: Anthony Davis, RB, Southern Cal; Richard Wood, LB, Southern Cal; Joe Wysock, G, Miami (Fla.); Tom Aylward, G, Nebraska.

Giants: Al Simpson, T, Colorado St.; Danny Buggs, WR, West Virginia; Robert Giblin, DB, Houston; Jim Obradovick, TE, Southern Cal.

The Jets also acquired defensive end Billy Newsome from New Orleans in exchange for a draft pick, while the Giants picked up Miami defensive back Henry Stuckey, also for a draft selection.

Bulls Can Handle Those Cavaliers

The Chicago Bulls don't seem to recognize that the Cleveland Cavaliers have changed.

The Cavs are playing better ball this season than they ever have in their short four-year history and find themselves in the running for a playoff berth for the first time ever — but it sure isn't because of the Bulls.

The Cavs have finished last in the NBA's Central Division in each of their four seasons, never winning more than 32 games, and have never been closer than 15 games at the end of the season to the division leader. This year they have been playing near .500 ball and should at least finish out of the cellar, thanks to the expansionist New Orleans Jazz — but not thanks to their nemesis.

"We can play so much better than that," Cavs Coach Bill Fitch said following his team's 125-97 thrashing by the Bulls Tuesday night, the 17th time in 18 meetings since Cleveland entered the league that Chicago's beaten the Cavs. "We made them look every bit as good as we could."

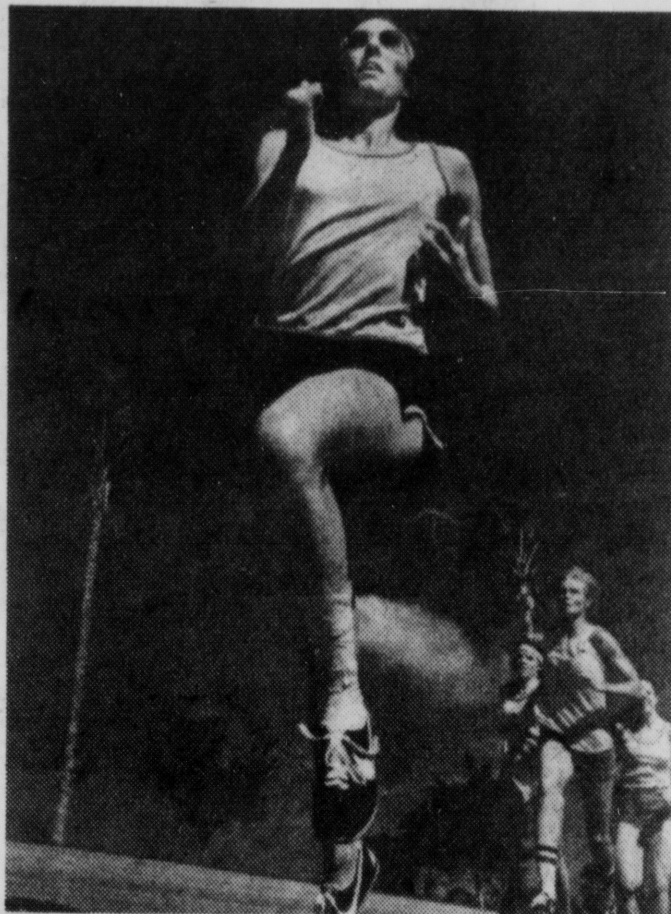

"With maturity we've built this into a pretty good team, but we're hurting for depth at guard and the way we played tonight we'd have a hard time putting Humpty Dumpty together."

It was the sixth straight loss for the Cavs and the fourth win in the last five games for the Bulls, who climbed to within 1½ games of idle Detroit for the leadership of the Midwest Division.

In other NBA contests, Houston topped Los Angeles, 104-89, New York edged Atlanta, 115-111, and Portland defeated Phoenix, 115-107.

Knicks 115, Hawks 111
Walt Frazier, MVP of the NBA All-Star game two weeks ago, stung young and defensively weak Atlanta for 39 points and 10 assists to lead New York to victory.

Frazier rang up 35 points in the first three quarters, 12 more than his game average. Herm Gilliam scored 22 points for Atlanta, including 10 in a seven minute span in the fourth quarter as the Hawks vainly tried to catch up. Earl Monroe also had 22 points for New York.

MICKI KING TAKES DISTANCE RUN

Logan and King Vie For Superstars Title

ROTONDA, Fla. (UPI) — A basketball star who didn't like being a girl when she was small and an Olympic diver who teaches physical education to men fought today for one of the richest prizes in women's professional sports on a testy obstacle course in southwest Florida.

Karen Logan of pro basketball's Pink Panthers and Air Force Capt. Micki King, the first woman to teach physical education at the all-male Air Force Academy, were in a close race for the $30,000 first place purse in the first women's Superstars games.

With today's basketball shooting and obstacle course race the last two events in three days of tests, Logan led King 38 to 34 points, but a first place finish in any event is worth 10 points.

Mary Jo Peppler, the pro volleyball player, had a good shot at the $15,000 second place money with 21 points collected in Tuesday's tests, while skater Diane Holum was close behind with 19 points.

While the girls were in their final rounds, O.J. Simpson of the Buffalo Bills dominated the third and last men's qualifying rounds with first place points in tennis, weightlifting, the 100yard dash and baseball hitting on his way to collecting 48 points.

Also winning invitations to the men's finals were Phil Villapiano of the Oakland Raiders, in second with 32 points, Franco Harris of the Pittsburgh Steelers, 23½, and three who collected 22 points each — Jack Ham of the Pittsburgh Steelers, tennis ace Marty Riessen, and Lawrence McCutcheon of the Los Angeles Rams.

They will join eight others who won invitations in earlier qualifying rounds, including the previous champs, pole vaulter Bob Seagren (1973) and soccer player Kyle Rote Jr (1974).

LA Solves Villemure

The Los Angeles Kings picked the perfect time to score a victory over old nemesis Gilles Villemure of the New York Rangers.

With ex-Ranger Gene Carr scoring two goals, the Kings defeated the Rangers 5-2, Tuesday night and remained tied with the Montreal Canadiens for first place in the National Hockey League's Division III. The Canadiens beat the Vancouver Canucks 3-1, in one of three other NHL games played Tuesday night.

The victory, only the second the Kings have scored over Villemure in 16 games, left them and the Canadiens with 69 points each.

Defenseman Terry Harper and Carr scored in the second period giving the Kings a 2-0 lead and Butch Goring made it 3-0 early in the third period. Jean Ratelle then scored for the Rangers but Carr notched his second goal of the game.

Guy Lafleur scored two goals and had an assist to lead the Canadiens over the Canucks at Vancouver. Lafleur scored the winning goal at 12:24 of the third period and assisted on Larry Robinson's insurance goal at 14:25.

The Canucks are still looking for their first win over Montreal since entering the league in 1970.

The New York Islanders defeated the Minnesota North Stars 6-2 and the Detroit Red Wings and St. Louis Blues played a 4-4 tie in the other games.

Islanders 6 Stars 2
Andre St. Laurent's two goals and an assist led the Islanders to a win which left them one point behind the idle Atlanta Flames in their battle for the final playoff berth in Division I. Doug Rombough and Doug Hicks score for the Stars.

KHS: No Need for Apologies

By Steve Kane

KINGSTON — Mike Rienzo said, "well, we looked a little ragged to-night." But the Kingston High Basketball coach had absolutely no reason to be apologetic. His team had just knocked off visiting Ketcham Tuesday night, 70-52, and retained its piece of first place in the DCSL.

One contender, Lourdes, was not so fortunate, the warriors bowed to Arlington, 63-60, and slipped into a three-way tie for third place. Poughkeepsie meanwhile kept pace with the 7-2 Maroons by whipping Saugerties, 99-78. In other league action, Beacon topped Spackenkill, 69-54, and Roosevelt downed John Jay, 82-75.

The Maroons were just a little slow in starting, that's all. It took most of the first quarter for them to get an attack rolling and the progress was stymied temporarily when four subs came off the bench in the second quarter. They had to get their wheels turning too.

That's why KHS led by only three points at halftime. In the third quarter, however, everybody was ready to go. Corey Chambers, who finished the night with a game high 26 points, erupted for 12 in the period to ease the Maroons into a commanding lead. The Kingston defense, which was strong throughout the game, never relaxed its pressure. Even when starter Bill Chaffin fouled out with 3:21 left in the period, Don Timbrouck stepped in so smoothly that the attack never missed a beat.

Kingston went into the final quarter holding a 50-37 advantage and showing no signs of letting up. Ketcham knew it sooner than the Maroons and cleared its bench with over five minutes left in the game.

The way Chambers scored in the third quarter demoralized the Indians. A Zone oriented team, Ketcham sagged heavily on the Kingston center from the beginning trying to keep him away from the ball and the basket.

Chambers was having none of it after the intermission. He simply took Larry Carpenter's assists and leaped out of a cluster of red shirts to take his shots. The ones he missed rangy Greg Glass hauled in for another try.

It was Glass and Art Shelighner who helped give the Maroons superior strength underneath, especially on the offensive boards. Ketcham, not a particularly small team, displayed none of the aggressiveness that arked the Kingston front line.

The Indians had a slow start themselves while Kingston slowly pulled away to an 18-8 first quarter lead. When Timbrouck, Shelighner, Daryl Mills and Lou Eccleston came in relief in the second quarter, however, the Indians began to find the range and climbed back in the game. A brief flurry of KHS turnovers allowed the visitors to close the gap at the end of the half.

Ten of Chambers' teammates scored although no one else was in double figures for Kingston. In one respect that's a positive note as Rienzo is well aware.

"When Carpenter came down that time on that three-on-one, did you see him pass off for the easy layup? Unselfish. It's nice to have a guy like that," the coach said. Carpenter finished with eight points.

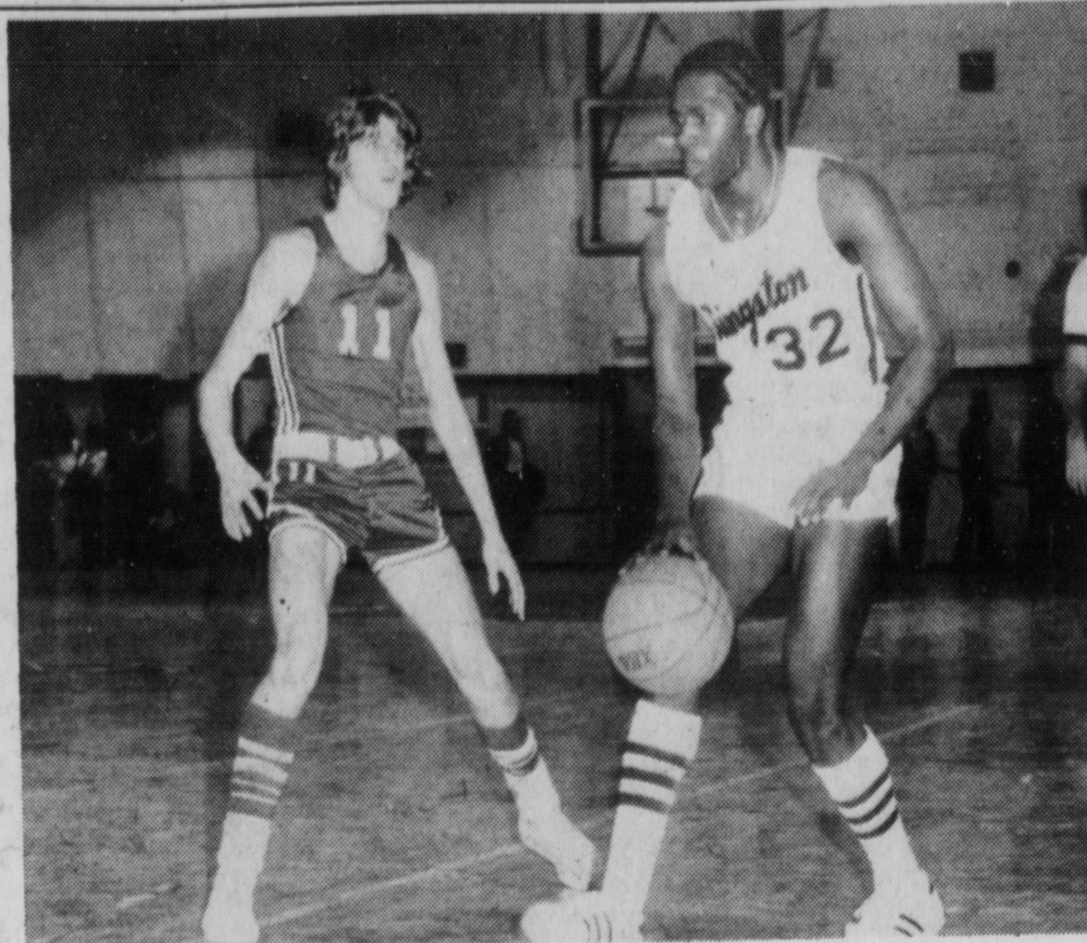

All the thrills were in the junior varsity battle where the Little Maroons hung on to post a 67-64 victory.

Liberty Rallies, 68-65

LIBERTY — It was the perfect time to knock off Liberty High School's red-hot basketball team and Marlboro almost did it Tuesday night, but the Redskins came alive in the second half and dumped the Dukes, 68-65, in the Ulster County Athletic League's only action.

Liberty was coming off its emotionally-charged five-point victory over Fallsburgh and the let down was inevitable. Against most UCL teams that let down wouldn't have been dangerous. But Joe Ciampi's Dukes, one of the two teams in the running for the other berth in the league championship game, are good enough to take advantage of an opening.

With the Dukes, led by Anthony Monroe, firing off a hot hand from the outside, and Liberty sputtering, Marlboro took a 28-21 first half lead.

But Floyd Emery's team, perhaps shocked into reality, unloaded for 21 points in the third period, then held Marlboro in the final eight minutes for the victory.

Reggie Biddings, with 12 of his points coming in the final stanza, paced the 10-0 Redskins with 22 points. Mike Lofaro had 14 with Rae Bridges and Milt Martin adding 12 apiece. Monroe scored 23 points for Marlboro.

"We didn't get any breaks," moaned Emery. "I'm just happy we pulled it out." The Liberty coach did have praise for the play of Marlboro, saying, "They did a fine job."

Poughkeepsie in High Gear

By TIM SCHUSTER

SAUGERTIES. Poughkeepsie High basketball coach Bob Stauderman Tuesday night served notice on the rest of the DCSL that his team is finally rolling in high gear and he expects the second half of the season to be smoother for the Pioneers than the first.

Stauderman spoke after his club breezed to a 99-78 win over scrappy Saugerties, in a game that saw three Poughkeepsie players score more than 20 points.

And the coach pointed to those same three players as the reason the Pioneers hold an "advantage" over the rest of the league. They are Kevin Vaughn, Dino Larry, and Clifton Grimes.

"We should have tried to box him out before he got the ball," suggested Saugerties coach Larry Marcus after the game, speaking of Larry. "Once he went up in the air, there wasn't anything we could do."

Marcus rated Poughkeepsie as the "toughest" team he had seen this season in the league. And of the rugged rebounder Grimes, with his one-handed hook rebounds swiped cleanly from the backboards, Marcus could only roll his eyes heavenward, calling it "incredible."

The Sawyer game plan was to keep the ball under tight control, but once the Poughkeepsie lead had swelled to 15 and 20 points there was little Saugerties could do but run — and they liked better running against the aggressive Poughkeepsie man-to-man defense in the second half than they had in the first when the lead developed.

Taking a 15-5 lead, the Pioneers built it to 25-15 at the quarter and 53-35 at the half. Grimes, Larry, and Vaughn were all in double figures by halftime. Larry finished with 25, Grimes 24, and Vaughn 22.

Saugerties won the third quarter by three points, as Chris Luley continued his assault on the nets with ten points in that period. Luley had perhaps his best night of the year, hitting on a combination of baseline drives to the hoop and his long one-hander for 26 points. He also bore the brunt of the rugged Poughkeepsie front line under the boards.

The big breakaway move occurred in the first minutes of the second quarter, as the Pioneers scored 10 straight points to take a 35-15 lead, the 20 point difference that carried to the end.

Saugerties and John Jay match up Friday in the Sawyers' quest for another victory to go with last week's.

Poughkeepsie will start over with Beacon, a team the Pioneers defeated by two points in overtime last December. "Our defense definitely needs some work," noted Stauderman, "but we're playing our best ball of the season right now."

The Poughkeepsie junior varsity outpointed Saugerties 80-50. Mark Becker led Saugerties with 17 points, and Greg Lounices had 19 for the winners.

Quinnipiac Humbles Hawks

HAMDEN, Conn.—New Paltz State has had more than its share of trouble winning ball games these days and a tall, sharpshooting Quinnipiac College squad compounded those difficulties here Tuesday night, with a resounding 117-82 win over the New York Staters.

Pulling its seasonal record to 7-7, Quinnipiac shot a solid 53 per cent from the field and was 21 for 27 from the free throw line to dominate the contest from start to finish. The team's top scorer, Bob Lynch led the Indians with 27 points and seven of the 13 players who saw action scored in double figures.

Led by Bob Irish's 25 points and 22 by Ron Monroe, the New Paltz made a game of it in the early going, but Quinnipiac's wide superiority in rebounding, 56 to 23, took its toll. The winners led 58-40 at the half and held a 59-42 edge in the second half.

Tom Booker added 14 points for the Hawks, who were 20 for 32 from the foul line and 42 per cent from the field, normally good enough to win but not against a team as sharp as Quinnipiac was last night.

The Hawks, now 2-11, return to the friendly confines of Elting Gym Thursday against Yeshiva University of New York City.

Flyers (43) — Mower 22, B. Ostoyic 11, Wilson 4, Miller 4, J. Ostoyic 2, Siracusano.

KHS Girl Cagers Even

KINGSTON Kingston High School girls prepped for three Dutchess County Scholastic League games this week by trouncing Poughkeepsie High 49-36 to reach the .500 mark with a 2-2 record.

The games this week are against Ketcham, Arlington and Poughkeepsie. There was no Jayvee game with Poughkeepsie.

Peggy Conlin led Kingston with 10 points and Ertha Burris and Ann Larson had nine each. Gabi Bunk of Poughkeepsie took game honors with 23 points.

Kingston (49) — Burris 9, Conlin 10, Larson 9, Mancuso 4, Baker 1, Byrd, Chavis, Jackson 6, Holland 2, Krajick 6, Wells, Provenzano 2.

Poughkeepsie (36) — Alexopoulos, Bunk 23, Boone, Henry 9, Thompson 4, Hall, Seaman, Lanchester, Lanchester.

Y Boys Beat the Girls

KINGSTON In games between boy and girl teams in the YMCA Junior Church Basketball League, Fair Street boys defeated Fair Street girls, 35-25, and St. John's Boys edged the St. James girls, 19-16. Redeemer boys trounced St. James boys, 47-20.

B. Mazzuca of Redeemer boys led all scorers with 16 points. Petramale of St. James had 10, J. Schleede of Redeemer 11, Ms. Howard of Fair Street 13, Kearney 7, M. Brancato 7.

SHS Wrestlers Win, NFA Stops KHS

SAUGERTIES Local high school wrestlers tangled with non-league opponents Tuesday with mixed success. Saugerties, hosting Linton High, racked up a 34-

18 victory while Kingston fell to powerful Newburgh, 35-16. Balance throughout the weights and four pins help the Sawyers improve their overall mark to 10-2. Tom Carr, Tom Brand, George Redder and Dave Heineck scored the falls for the winners.

Saugerties returns to DCSL action Thursday against Ketcham.

Newburgh is one of the top-ranked teams in the state, but after seven bouts it was Kingston with 15-12 lead. Steve Yakaitis and Ron Reedy pinned a pair of Gold-backs to produce the lead.

"Our big men couldn't hold up," said KHS coach Dean Short who still managed to be pleased with the overall result.

NFA's Mike Harris and Bill Benjamin, both sectional threats, powered the Newburgh surge.

In the match's feature bout, Rich Sippel of Kingston fought to a 1-1 draw with Tony Casucci.

Kingston's junior varsity dropped a 33-27 decision to NFA, but that score was the result of three forfeits. On the mat, the little Maroons outscored their opponents, 27-16.

Barry and Krom Undefeated

Tom Barry and Bob Krom remained undefeated, and the Rondout Valley High School wrestling team lifted its overall record to 5-6 here Tuesday with a 33-21 victory over UCAL for Ellenville.

Barry, moving up to the 107 class, stopped the 'Ellies' Robert Schoonmaker in 2:24 to run his personal record to 14-0. Krom, a 147 pounder, took a 5-4 decision from Vincent Pinque to gain his ninth victory of the year.

These wins helped set up the Ganders' clinching triumphs by the Nadratowski brothers in 157 and 169. First Ted stopped Bill Trapnell in 1:51, then John slapped Bob Del Gaizo with a fall in 1:34. Rondout steps outside the league this weekend to defend its title at the Cobleskill Invitational. The Ganders will face seven new schools in the two day affair.

Upsets In A Division

SAUGERTIES Upsets continued in the A Division of the SAA Sawyer Basketball League, as Mahogany Ridge hosed the Fire Department, 80-57, and the Flower Garden disconnected Ma Bells, 49-37, leaving the co-leader tied with 9-2 marks.

Chuck Schirmer paced the Riders with 22 points and 20 rebounds. Carl Nickerson and Billy Perks added 14 each with Perks turning in eight assists, Nickerson 10 rebounds. Co-leaders for the Firemen were Craig Wolsen and Clark Hackett with 21 points each. Hackett snared 2 rebounds and 5 assists.

Greg Wilcox starred for Flower Garden with 17 points and 13 rebounds. Earl Martin had 14 points and 10 rebounds and John Frelich 11 rebounds. Jimmy Whiteford paced the Bells with 17 points.

Mahogany Ridge (80) — Schirmer 22, Parks 16, Nickerson 14, Strohsahl 13, Kane 8, Legg 5, Swart 2.

A. J. Murphy? You remember him...Kingston High...Siena College. He still has the fine scoring touch, as witness his 47 points to pace The Outrigger to a 117-88 route of Annandale Hotel in the SAA Premier Basketball League.

Murphy's 47 points were just three short of the all-time league record of 50 held by teammate Rod Chando and it was the best individual effort since Chando set his record three years ago. Chando, incidentally, poured 32 points through the hoop to maintain a firm hold on the individual scoring lead with 225 points and a 25.0 average for the season.

Acker's Bar also created a mild sensation by snapping Boo's Tavern nine-game winning streak, 96-83. In the third game, Naccarato Insurance impaled Allen's Archery, 106-77, to give the three winning teams a 106-plus scoring average for the night.

Paced by Jim Wherry's 28 points and Scott Miller's 17 points and 14 rebounds, Acker's edged Boo's 27-23 in the first quarter and widened the margin to 53-39 at the half.

Ed Schumacher (24) and Warren Gritmon (18) paced Boo's, with Don Meier and John Carnright each picked off 10 rebounds.

Russians Lead

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — The Russian duo of Irina Rodina and Aleksandr Zaitcev surged skillfully towards their third pairs title Tuesday night in the European figure skating championships.

The defending champions recorded a score of 9.0 orinals and 35.46 points in Sports Writers Association small school pool.

Liberty, a team which had slowly inched its way to ninth last week, made the big jump and now stands No. 4 in the state.

The top-ranked teams remained the same: Lutheran of Brookville in the large school poll, Syracuse Sacred Heart in the small school field.

Newburgh Free Academy, fresh from a two point win over New York City's strong FDR High, climbed to 10th best large school. Kingston, Poughkeepsie, and Lourdes are honorable mention.

Among small schools Red Hook, Rhinebeck, and Marlboro are honorable mention.

In the upset of the week, Gorton of Yonkers, featuring All-American center Bernard Toone, was edged by Lincoln of Yonkers, 61-60.

Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market, somewhat winded after two record-setting sessions, opened slightly higher today in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which gained more than 28 points the first two days this week, was up 0.71 at 695.48 shortly after the opening. Advances led declines, 168 to 167, among the 518 issues crossing the tape.

Turnover amounted to around 670,000 shares. The volume of 31,760,000 shares Tuesday was the second heaviest in NYSE history. The 9,880,000 shares traded during the first hour Tuesday was a record.

Analysts said they thought the market's immediate path was up, but some profit taking would be normal in light of the recent sharp gains. The Dow average has climbed more than 52 points in the past five sessions.

Early prices included:

December Index . . Sharpest Long Term Drop in History

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The index of leading economic indicators in December plunged to its sharpest long-term drop in history, the Commerce Department said today.

The index, which is considered by many financial analysts to foretell future economic strength of the United States, declined 2.4 per cent in December.

December was the fifth straight month of decline, the worst stretch since a six-month period ending February 1958, Commerce said.

In the five-month fall, the index has dropped 11 per cent. The previous worse over the same period was 9.8 per cent from November, 1948, to April, 1949.

The index measures nine segments of the economy such as consumer debt, stock prices, prices of industrial materials and initial claims for unemployment insurance. Although the index is widely held to foretell future economic events, inflation has distorted it in the past two years.

In the December index, for example, the chief negative factor was a 13 per cent decline in industrial materials prices. Ironically, the decline in these prices is a suggestion that inflation is abating.

In December, six of the nine indicators that comprise the index declined from November. They were for the average work week, initial claims for unemployment insurance, new orders for durables, stock prices, industrial materials prices and consumer installment debt.

The three indicators that improved in December were building permits, price-labor cost ratio and orders for plant and equipment.

The index in December stood at 160.3 from the 1967 base of 100.

The December decline of 2.4 per cent followed declines of 0.8 per cent in August, 3.3 in September, 1.5 in October and a record 3.5 per cent in November.

Town Board Sets 'Day'

NEW PALTZ
The New Paltz Village board established Grievance Day, registration day for village elections, and appointed a permanent sewage treatment plant manager at its meeting Monday night. Grievance day was set for Feb. 18, from 3 to 7 p.m. in the Trustees Room of the Village Hall.

Registration day for the upcoming March 18 village elections will be Saturday March 1, from noon to 9 p.m. Voting will be from noon to 9 p.m.

election day, held in the Trustees Room. Appointed sewage treatment manager on a permanent basis was Edward Amacher.

City Reapport Plan Meets 'One-Man, One-Vote' Guidelines

KINGSTON
Mayor Francis R. Koenig will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. Thursday night at city hall on a 13-ward reapportionment plan approved by the Common Council on Jan. 7. The plan meets Judicial guidelines of "one-man, one-vote" in that it has a deviation factor of less than five per cent. The mean population of the city's 13 wards is 1,960. The biggest changes occurred mid-town where sections of the overpopulated Eighth Ward were parceled out to adjoining wards to the south and east that were generally underpopulated.

The results are as follows:

First Ward

No change whatsoever. The First Ward is bounded by the city line on the west where it meets Lounsbery Place; thence to Mt. View Avenue Miller's Lane to Lucas Avenue to Green Street to Converse Street on a line extending to the middle of the Esopus Creek.

Second Ward

Minor changes. Two blocks are shifted to the Fourth Ward. The new Second Ward will be bounded by Linderman Avenue at its junction with the western border of the city (Linderman Avenue Extension), back on Linderman to Wall Street, to St. James Street, to Green Street to Pearl Street to Washington Avenue, to Lucas Avenue to Miller's Lane to Mountain View Avenue to Lounsbery Place and west to the city line.

Third Ward

Minor changes. One block bounded by Henry Street, Clinton Avenue, Franklin Street and Furnace Street is shifted to the 13th Ward. Boundaries of the new Third Ward will be, starting at Linderman Avenue at the western city line, into the city along Linderman to Wall Street to St. James Street to Clinton Avenue to Franklin Street to Furnace Street to Henry Street to Wall Street on to the Wallkill Valley Railroad following it to the western border of the city.

Fourth Ward

Again, little change. Two blocks were added bounded by Green Street, Lucas Avenue, Washington Avenue as far as Pearl Street and back to Green Street.

Boundaries of the new Fourth Ward will be beginning at St. James and Wall Street, west one block to Green Street, to Pearl Street, to Washington Avenue, to Lucas Avenue to Green Street across North Front Street to Converse Street to a point in the Esopus Creek, that point being due north of the junction of Albany Avenue underpass). From there the line runs west to Broadway to Henry Street, to Oak Street to Franklin Street to Furnace Street to Henry and west to Wall Street and the Wallkill Valley Railroad tracks.

Fifth Ward

Heading toward midtown, changes become more apparent. The Fifth Ward loses three blocks bounded by O'Neil Street, Albany Avenue, Smith Avenue and Tremper Avenue.

The boundaries start at the Penn Central underpass on Albany Avenue, running north to a point in the middle of the Esopus Creek. From there to a point at the junction of the creek and the town of Ulster line to Kiersted Avenue. From Kiersted to Roosevelt Avenue to Albany Avenue to Foxhall Avenue to the junction of the railroad tracks to TenBroeck Avenue to O'Neil Street to Smith Avenue to Albany Avenue and back to the railroad underpass.

Sixth Ward

The Sixth gave up three blocks in its southern section bounded by Florence Street, Lincoln Street, Clifton Avenue and Sylvester Street.

Boundaries begin at Kiersted Avenue and the city line southeast to Flatbush Avenue at the city line, back in on Flatbush Avenue to Clifton Avenue to Lincoln Street to Florence Street to Sylvester Street to Farley Street to Derrenbacher to Foxhall Avenue to Albany Avenue to Roosevelt Avenue and back to the junction of Kiersted Avenue and the city line.

Seventh Ward

Some significant changes in the Seventh Ward, involving both additions and subtractions. The Seventh picked up three blocks bounded by Albany Avenue, Smith Avenue, O'Neil Street and Tremper Avenue but gave up four blocks bounded by Foxhall Avenue, Wynkoop Place, Clifton Avenue, Highland Avenue, East Chester Street and Hasbrouck Avenue.

The boundaries of the new Seventh Ward begin at the junction of Broadway and East Chester Street, run up Broadway to the interchange on Albany Avenue, along Albany Avenue to Smith Avenue to O'Neil Street to TenBroeck Avenue to the Penn Central tracks to Foxhall Avenue to Hasbrouck Avenue and back to the point of beginning along East Chester Street to Broadway.

Eighth Ward

The "battleground" of reapportionment, as it were. The Eighth Ward lost the Hutton Park section to the ninth Ward and also gave up the west side of Second Avenue to Moore Street. The Eighth acquired the Highland Avenue section given up by the Seventh.

Boundaries begin at Broadway and East Chester Street, along Broadway to Foxhall to Derrenbacher to Farley Street to Stephan Street to where Stephan meets Sylvester along Sylvester to Tubby Street to Wood Street to East Chester Street to Garrison Street to Larch Street to First Avenue to Moore Street to Lawrence Street to Cottage Row to Murray Street to Delaware Avenue to Jarrold Street to Murray Street to the railroad tracks and back to Hasbrouck Avenue to Stuyvesant Street to Broadway and East Chester and the point of beginning.

Ninth Ward

The ward was second only to the 10th in lack of population. It picked up the Hutton Park area from the Eighth and the north side of Second Avenue to Moore Street.

Boundaries start at Flatbush Avenue and the city line (north), along Flatbush to Clifton Avenue to Lincoln Street to Florence Street to Sylvester Street to Tubby Street to Wood Street to East Chester Street Bypass to Garrison Street to Larch Street to First Avenue to Moore Street to Lawrence Street to Cottage Row to Murray Street to the railroad tracks (including some 85 per cent of Rondout Gardens) to Meadow Street to Hasbrouck Avenue to East Union until it becomes part of Yeoman's Street to Locust Avenue along a line northerly to the city line.

Tenth Ward

Some major changes as a result of the ward's lack of population. Essentially the ward was extended across Broadway to include the area commonly known as "Broadway West" and bounded by West Strand—Dock Street, Wurts Street, McEntee Street and Broadway.

The boundaries begin at the northerly point of the Ninth Ward, continue east along the city line to a point in the Hudson River southeast of the Rondout lighthouse. From there it follows the centerline of the Rondout Creek to a point under the Port Ewen Bridge then to Wurts Street to McEntee Street to Broadway to Stuyvesant Street to Hasbrouck Avenue to the railroad track to Meadow Street to Hasbrouck Avenue to East Union Street to Yeoman's Street to Locust Street on a line to the northern boundary of the city.

ELEVENTH WARD

The 11th lacked population which it picked up from the adjoining 12th Ward, acquiring a block bounded by Spring Street, Wurts Street, McEntee Street and Ravine. Both sides of the recently reconstructed pruce Street are now in the 11th.

Boundaries now begin at a point in the Rondout Creek under the Port Ewen Bridge up Wurts to McEntee Street to Ravine Street to Spring Street to Hudson Street to Abel Street to a point beyond the extended line of New Street west to the Penn Central railroad tracks along the tracks to South Clinton Avenue to Greenkill Avenue to the Wallkill Valley Railroad to the city line and back to the point of beginning.

TWELFTH WARD

The 12th loses the entire McEntee Street to Spring Street to Broadway section to the 10th and 11th wards. It acquires from the 13th a block bounded by Brewster Street, Broadway and West O'Reilly Street. It will now include all of Mary's Avenue.

Boundaries are, beginning at the railroad overpass at West O'Reilly Street down West O'Reilly to Broadway to McEntee to Ravine to Spring to Hudson to beel to a point formed by the extension of New Street to the Penn Central tracks north to the point of beginning.

THIRTEENTH WARD

Gave up what the 12th acquired and acquired a block bounded by Oak Street, Franklin Street, Clinton Avenue and Henry Street.

Boundaries now begin at the West O'Reilly Street overpass along the tracks to Barman and South Clinton along South Clinton to Greenkill Avenue to the Wallkill Valley Railroad along the tracks to South Wall Street to Wall Street and Henry Street to Oak Street to Franklin Street to Furnace Street to Henry to Broadway to West O'Reilly Street and back to the point of beginning.

League Supports Amendments

KINGSTON
Citing the urgent need for a constitutional guarantee of equal rights and equal treatment for both sexes, the League of Women Voters of New York State has announced its support for the proposed equal rights amendments to both the New York and U.S. Constitutions.

"The rationale for an equal rights amendment, be it federal or state, is that just as discrimination based on race is wrong, so discrimination based on sex is wrong," stated a recent LWV release. "And, just as discrimination based on race was made unconstitutional, we need equality under the law provided through a constitutional guarantee of equal rights and equal treatment of both sexes."

Recognizing that some efforts have already been made to guarantee equality between the sexes, the LWV adds, "There have been a few laws which have dealt with specific aspects of discrimination in employment and pay. There have been a few court decisions which have ruled against sex discrimination, but these have been limited to specific instances. A constitutional guarantee will require, once and for all and not inch by grudging inch, equal treatment under the law for all people (and) a greater range of opportunities for both men and women."

Specifically, says the LWV, an equal rights amendment will:

- Create equal educational opportunities in publically supported schools for both men and women students and strengthen laws against sex discrimination in education;
- Strengthen laws against sex discrimination in employment so that workers will be hired and judged on the basis of individual merit;
- Make all credit available on the basis of ability to pay, not on the basis of sex;
- Provide equal access to military service for men and women and guarantee equal eligibility for the benefits in good health care, housing, travel and education that such service provides.
- Erase laws that prohibit women from controlling property, mortgage or insurance.

But the League points out that there are several things an equal rights amendment will not do. It will not, for instance, deprive any person of the constitutional right to privacy which allows separation of sexes in public restrooms and sleeping quarters in public institutions. And it will not change the real physical differences between men and women on which the laws regarding rape are based.

The New York State Legislature twice has gone on record in favor of an equal rights amendment: in 1972 when it ratified the proposed 27th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution Which still is in the process of ratification) and in 1974 when it ratified an equal rights amendment to the State Constitution.

The New York State League is currently urging the newly elected state legislature to give early second passage to the equal rights amendment so that voters will have an opportunity to express their feelings on the matter on the ballot in November.

Would Legalize Marijuana

Three New York City Democrat Legislators announced in Albany, Tuesday they would introduce a bill to legalize marijuana in New York State. The substance would be sold through liquor store outlets. Shown making the announcement are (L-R) Assemblyman Melvin Miller of Brooklyn, Senator Franz Leichter of Manhattan, and Assemblyman Alan G. Nevesi of Queens. (UPI)

Freezing Rain in Valley . . . Holiday for Some, Pain for Others

KINGSTON
Temperatures that hovered near freezing overnight left a glaze of ice on some Ulster County roads this morning and gave students and teachers from two area schools an unexpected — but not unappreciated mid-week break from classes.

It rained for most of the night in this area, but it wasn't until shortly before dawn that the thermometer did its part for late January traveling woes. Although most major highways in the county were cleared by the morning rush hour traffic, secondary roads remained slick and dangerous until mid-morning.

In the Onteora Central School District, where narrow mountain roads are considered major thoroughfares, icy conditions were serious enough to prompt school officials to cancel classes for the day. Classes were also canceled in the Rondout Valley Central School District.

Figuring matters would improve with time, the Ellenville Central School District delayed classes for two hours today. Kingston City Schools Consolidated delayed its bus runs for one hour.

The Tree House Nursery School in Bearsville gave everyone a break and called off classes for the day.

Motorists apparently took things slow and easy today too. Police said there were no weather related accidents this morning, although traveling in the higher elevations represented something of an adventure.

According to forecasters, the weather situation is expected to get better before it gets worse. Rain should taper off tonight and then change to occasional, but harmless, snow flurries. Look for some cloudiness and some sunshine Thursday. Temperatures will remain seasonably cold for the rest of the week.

Praise for Election Board Operation

Ulster County is one of two counties in the state being cited for having the most progressive board of elections operations. The updated, computerized system has been developed under the guidance of the Legislature's Election Board Committee and its chairman, Lewis Hall (R-Dist. 5) second right. Calvin M. Pierson (L), state senior budget examiner and Kevin J. Dulin, second left of the State Division of the Budget were in Kingston Thursday to review the operation and pass on the knowledge gleaned to other election boards in the state. Also pictured are Election Commissioners, Edwin F. Callahan, center, a Republican and John J. Hogan (R), Democrat. (Freeman photo)

Court Explains Reversal

DENVER (UPI) — A federal appeals court, in explaining why it overturned a lower court decision, says IBM's alleged antitrust practices were part of the competitive scene in a highly competitive business.

"The record shows that the acts of IBM were part of the competitive scene in this volatile business inhabited by aggressive, skillful businessmen seeking to market a product cheaper and better than that of their competitors," the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals court said Tuesday in a 94-page ruling.

The appellate court said the decision to reverse was tied to an error made by the lower court judge in his definition of the word "market" as it applies to antitrust law.

"The judgment of the trial court against IBM must be reversed because it is based upon an erroneous determination of a fundamental element in the case," the appeals court said in overturning a $259.5 million award against IBM in favor of Telex Corp.

The court's original decision, handed down Friday following the close of stock exchanges around the country, sent IBM stock soaring Tuesday. Following its ruling last week, the appeals court suspended trading in IBM, Telex and subsidiary stock until investors and market analysts had an opportunity to study the decision.

The suspension ended Tuesday and IBM stock opened up 25 points, largely on the basis of the court's ruling.

Telex filed suit in 1971 ac-curring IBM of using predatory selling practices by lowering prices on its peripheral computer equipment, "software," to a point where smaller companies were unable to compete. Telex asked $400 million in damages.

A U.S. district court judge in Oklahoma originally awarded Telex the huge damages but gave IBM $21.9 million in punitive and compensatory damages against Telex on its counterclaim of industrial espionage. In its ruling Friday, the appeals court reduced IBM's award to $18.5 million.

Vow on Guerrillas

ADDIS ABABA (UPI) — Ethiopia's military regime has turned its back on past peace efforts and has vowed to crush a 13-year-old guerrilla war in northern Eritrea Province.

The 120-man Provisional Military Government said Tuesday Ethiopia would "demand the hands of its true and vigilant sons to suppress bandit elements."

A statement broadcast by Radio Ethiopia said the military regime "has reached the final point in its policy of restraint and will now proceed to eliminate those fighting against the unity of the country."

"Woe to those bandits and their leaders who repeatedly try to disrupt public order," the broadcast over Ethiopia's official radio station said.

Diplomats described the tough statement as a possible prelude to full-scale military action against separatist guerrillas fighting for the independence of Eritrea, a former Italian colony annexed in 1962.

Two rival guerrilla groups — the Eritrean Liberation Front and the Popular Liberation Front — joined forces recently in the fight to win independence for the Moslem province in predominantly Christian Ethiopia.

Diplomats said the military regime would have to order a nationwide mobilization to wage a major drive against the guerrillas in Eritrea, a rough and sparsely populated area in northernmost Ethiopia.

The Eritrean capital of Asmara, 400 miles north of Addis Ababa, has been the target of a recent wave of bombings and shootings. One attack was against the U.S. Information Service office in the city.

On Tuesday, the government announced that guerrillas had attacked a seven-vehicle gasoline convoy traveling between Addis Ababa and the port city of Assab in southern Eritrea.

The Arab-backed guerrillas launched the raids just before peace talks with the four-month-old military government broke down early this month.

The regime, which deposed Emperor Haile Selassie last September, refused to discuss guerrilla demands for independence and the withdrawal of Ethiopian troops.

Dead in Prague

Antonin Novotny, former Czech President and Communist Party First Secretary, died Tuesday in a state sanatorium in Prague of a heart attack, the Central Committee of the party announced. He was 70. (UPI)

Area Group Opposes Fishing Law Proposal

KINGSTON — Opposition to the state's proposal to change fishing laws for eight-tenths of a mile of the Esopus Creek in the Boiceville, area is being raised by the Ulster County Conservation Committee.

The state proposes that only three trout per day per person, be taken from that part of the creek and that the trout would have to be at least 12 inches long.

At a recent meeting of the committee, it was decided to present a resolution to the County Legislature opposing the state's proposed action because it was the consensus of the committee that many smaller trout would have to be returned to the stream after having been caught and that it has been proven that most of the fish returned, die, according to C. Freeman Lasher (R-Dist. 1), chairman of the conservation Committee.

The motion to express the concern of the committee to the Department of Environmental Conservation passed with only Legislator Brian R. White (R-Dist. 8) abstaining. It was also announced that June 6, 7 and 8 a Sportsman's Conservation Workshop will be held at the Shokan Campus of the State University at New Paltz. It will be hosted by the Federated Sportsman's Clubs of Ulster County.

Repay The Army

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. brought along cases of vodka and wine incorrectly labeled "glassware," in possible violation of U.S. Army rules, when he became commander of allied forces in Europe, Army officials said today.

Haig's executive officer, Brig. Gen. Joseph Bratton, confirmed the incident after an anonymous telephone caller told United Press International about it.

But Bratton said Haig acted "innocently and inadvertently" and already had written a check for $91 to repay the army for the liquor shipment.

It was the second recent embarrassment for Haig in his move from White House chief of staff to commander of U.S. and allied troops in Europe.

He paid the army $46.92

last week after an overzealous officer gave the Haig family dog a 100-mile ride through West Germany in a chauffeured Army sedan.

Investigate Burglaries

KINGSTON — An overnight burglary at Sear's Department Store, and another in Rosendale, claimed the attention of police this morning.

Kingston police reported that Sear's had been entered through forcing the rear door sometime during the night, with the discovery made this morning. While a complete inventory had not been made, it was found that a television set was missing.

And a second hand and variety store at 40 Main Street, Rosendale was entered illegally between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., Tuesday, according to a sheriff's department spokesman, with about $150 worth of merchandise and a small amount of cash taken.

Police said that entry was gained through a broken window to Theresa Miller's shop. Among the items taken were several knives, a brass box, and numerous pipes of various descriptions.

Heavy duty color coded battery clamps; automatic circuit breaker. For all 6 or 12 volt vehicles.

Says FDA Will Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration said today there may have been 26 deaths associated with two widely prescribed antibiotics — more than twice what had been officially confirmed previously.

The actual death toll, FDA Commissioner Alexander M. Schmidt told Congress, is probably higher.

He said the FDA is prepared to order one of the drugs, lincomycin, off the market if its experts decide the risks outweigh the benefits, and will move to prevent the second drug, clindamycin, from being misprescribed.

Schmidt said there was little doubt that clindamycin, dispensed at the rate of 6 million prescriptions a year, was being promoted and prescribed for the wrong things. Lincomycin has been selling at about 1 million prescriptions a year, he said, but the manufacturer, the Upjohn Co., agreed to stop advertising it.

Schmidt was called to testify on the drugs before the Senate Small Business Committee, along with William N. Hubbard, president of Upjohn.

Hubbard defended the drugs and his firm's promotion of them, but admitted about 20 per cent of clindamycin has been used for bronchitis and acne, two conditions for which it is not recommended.

The deaths which have been reported are from a severe form of colitis which results in fluid loss and shock. Hubbard said records show there have been 85 colitis deaths, but he did not specify if any of those were linked to the two antibiotics.

Schmidt, in testimony submitted to the hearing, said medical literature reports six deaths associated with lincomycin and clindamycin.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Usually you're a self-starter. Today, it will be difficult to get up a full head of steam where your work is concerned.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you cater to your desire to overindulge, your waistline will suffer. You'll not fit into your new wardrobe. No extra helpings!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's likely your opinions will represent the minority today on important family issues. Don't fight city hall.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll jump to conclusions based upon what you want to hear, not on what's really said. Listen carefully with both ears.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be sure what you buy isn't contributing to inflation; instead, fighting it. Shop till you get a good price.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're normally extremely aware of small details others overlook. Today, you'll base decisions on a faulty overview.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You can't depend upon others to pick up after you and do things that you should do for yourself. Be your own man.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You won't be at your best if you have to deal with too large a group. Pass up any large, noisy gatherings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't take bows prematurely for something not yet accomplished. You'll be embarrassed if it doesn't work out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Keep your plans in perspective or you'll jump ahead of yourself and leave out some small, but necessary, steps.

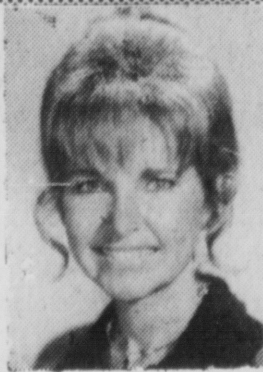

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you don't have cash to buy what you want, it would be wise to wait till you do, not shoulder installment payments.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A companion who has taken advantage of your generous nature in the past will try to lower the boom again. Be careful.

Jan. 30, 1975

Your financial prospects this year look promising, if you don't involve yourself in projects or schemes in which you lack expertise. Go the slow, sure route. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

FOUR MONTHS: (Q.) Mack went with me almost a year. He was very nice to me and I loved him very much. Four months ago on a date he asked me to go all the way and I said yes.

I told Mack I was pregnant and he told me to get lost. I told my parents and they said I would have to have an abortion. I don't want an abortion. I love my baby and want to have it. What do I do? — 14 in Pennsylvania

(A.) It is sad that Mack can't see that he is just as responsible for what has happened as you are. Ask your parents to go with you to your family doctor to discuss your situation.

HARD TALK: (Q.) I'm madly in love with Randy, but he cusses and I have learned to cuss from him and my mom heard us. Now he can't even come over to our house. We want to go back together. What should we do? We are both 14. — Cut Off in Connecticut

(A.) The use of rough language is a habit, just as smoking or drinking is a habit. Habits can be changed. At 14 you and Randy should be able to clean the dirty words out of your conversation. Do that yourself and encourage Randy to do the same. Then ask your mother to give you a new chance.

Boston Educator Doused

Boston School Committee member John Kerrigan seconds after he was doused with a gallon of white paint at Boston State College where he teaches. The paint was poured on his head by an unknown assailant inside the building while a demonstration was being held outside to protest the former school committee chairman's stand on school busing. Kerrigan and two companions later assaulted freelance cameraman Jim Ryan in an effort to get his film. Note paint can on floor, lower right. (UPI)

Another Mission For Kissinger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger says he is planning his next peace-seeking mission to the Middle East "within the next few weeks."

He told a news conference Tuesday it would not be a trip designed to settle anything, or to generate a new round of "shuttle diplomacy," but would give him the opportunity for first hand talks with Israelis and Arabs.

Kissinger said he was confident there is now an opportunity for reconciliation between Israel's demand for some political progress toward peace and Egypt's demand for the return of some territory.

He said he believes Israel's Arab opponents are more willing than they have been in the past to accept Israel's existence as a necessary part of a peace agreement.

On other issues, Kissinger said:

—He believes progress is being made in discussions on Cyprus between Cypriot and Turkish leaders. Congress ordered U.S. military aid to Turkey halted Feb. 5 unless such progress is made. Kissinger will check with the parties involved by the end of this week and report the situation to Congress.

—The recent decision of Latin American countries to postpone a proposed late March foreign ministers' meeting in Buenos Aires puts in jeopardy the "new dialogue" he has attempted to launch in the hemisphere.

—All Western democracies "are suffering from a crisis of authority" because of restrictions legislative bodies are placing on executive branches.

—He visited former President Nixon at San Clemente last weekend because he happened to be in Los Angeles making a speech and thought it an appropriate courtesy.

Israel Makes An Offer

By UPI

Israel has offered to withdraw up to 31 miles in the occupied Sinai Desert in a troop pullback agreement with Egypt but insists on keeping the region's strategic mountain passes and oil fields.

Defense Minister Shimon Peres said Tuesday in Tel Aviv Israel would be willing to pull back from 19 to 31 miles in exchange for political concessions from Egypt.

But he said in a national radio interview the proposed pullback would have to leave the Abu Rodeis oil fields and the Mitla and Gidi passes in Israeli hands. It was the most detailed statement so far of Israel's negotiating position.

In Paris, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat inspected the latest French missiles and radar equipment Tuesday during an arms shopping trip to France.

Diplomatic sources said Sadat plans to make a substantial purchase of French war equipment. There were also reports that he might buy a nuclear reactor.

Market, Cars, Sugar Good Signs

By UPI

Things are looking up.

The stock market is rebounding. Cars are selling again. Some furloughed workers are being called back to their jobs. Sugar prices are dropping.

The good news brings predictions that the recession could be over in six months.

"The behavior of the stock market since early December suggests that, if the past is any guide, the recession could end close to mid-year," said Irwin Kellner, economist at Manufacturers Hanover Bank in New York.

"Historically," Kellner said, "an uptick in the stock market has led the end of an economic recession by an average of six months."

In Detroit, a Ford Motor Co. executive said the worst in the auto slump seems to be over. Robert J. Hampton, vice president for North American operations, said Ford could recall by March some of its 33,125 workers on indefinite layoffs.

Meanwhile, a tax cut of $18 billion or more may be approved by the House Ways and Means Committee by the end of next week.

Explosion at State Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Callers identifying themselves as members of the "Weather Underground" took responsibility early today for a bomb that damaged offices in the State Department and warned of a bomb at the Oakland, Calif., Induction Center.

No one was injured at the State Department, and several hours after authorities in Oakland were tipped, no bomb had been found.

News media around the country received telephone calls directing reporters to phone booths where there were letters warning of the bombs and decrying continuing U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

The Washington incident apparently was aimed at offices of the Agency for International Development, the principal agency handling foreign aid.

The State Department bomb went off in a men's room near AID offices on the third floor. The blast caved in a ceiling and burst a water main, sending water flooding through the halls.

District of Columbia police were sent to several other locations housing AID or related offices, but no other explosives were found.

State Department spokesman Paul Hare said the explosion occurred about 1 a.m. EST.

He said the explosion itself was apparently not loud enough to attract attention of the overnight employees and that the effects were discovered after the warning letters were received. "We had a bomb threat and subsequent to that we discovered something went off," he said.

An employee in the State Department's around-the-clock operations center said, "The damage was localized — pretty much confined to that room. The worst part of it knocked down a ceiling."

A security guard said there was "extensive water damage" because the blast broke a water main.
